

LESYA UKRAINKA AS A LITERARY CRITIC

By DR. W. BESOUSKO (3) Olga Kobylanska, like Fedkovich, first wrote for German papers and magazines. She mastered the German language and literature. By her acquaintances she was encouraged to write in Ukrainian.

A FRATERNALIST

A Fraternalist has that little trace of God's own love implanted into the soul of man to be developed or destroyed as the individual himself decides.

UKRAINIAN YOUTH NEWS

By ALEXANDER F. DANKO

Current Events We are now living during times and through events that will eventually take up many pages in future history books.

Let's all get in this fight against the Russians—and help the cause of a free and independent Ukraine. Let's all help rid this world of its greatest menace—the dreaded cancer known as Russian Colonialism.

Today the Magyars are receiving the same cruel treatment at the hands of the Russians that they themselves meted out to the Carpatho-Ukrainians over 17 years ago.

PAUSE FOR REFLECTION

According to a recent news report from Washington, the Federal government issued 226 million checks to individuals in the fiscal year ended last June—and estimates that it will issue 236 million during the current fiscal year.

Nearly 22 million people, equal to nearly 13 per cent of the national population, are getting these checks for various kinds of payments from the Federal government.

An automatic machine in the treasury's central disbursing office turns out these checks at the rate of more than one a second almost every working day.

Frankly speaking, I am afraid my Christian feelings of "turning the other cheek" will be temporarily supplanted by the basic Jewish religious concept of "Reciprocity" (an eye for an eye, a tooth for a tooth, etc.).

Trend

Last Monday's syndicated column by famed writer Bob Considine had a story on Stanislaus Mikolajczyk, the last free prime minister of Poland, now in exile.

Aside from pleading Poland's case, Mikolajczyk mentioned the continued unrest, dissension and potential revolutionary factors in Eastern Europe and prominently mentioned "the countless demonstrations in Ukraine and Georgia."
