A WORD FROM THE VICE PRESIDENT

WE MUST NOT FAIL

Our beloved President is dead. We repeat these words unbelievably hoping that it is only a bad dream, a dream that we want so much to forget. But the harsh facts must be faced. Our President is gone. Gone are his steady hands, strong will, dedicated spirit and indefatigable energy. But in going he has left us a legacy that can be matched by few in the history of our Association. His record, his dream, and his ideas live with us. Knowing and working with him was to know clearly the goals and purposes of our Soyuz. He labored for the fulfillment of a better and happier life for our members in the United States and Canada. He embodied with burning passion the never ending struggle for the freedom, independence and justice of our brethren in Ukraine. He plunged fully and completely into the stream of American life and spared no effort in acquainting his adopted country with the rich centuries-old traditions and culture of Ukraine.

We who knew him well, were always aware of the fact that he was impatient with the comparatively slow progress even though unexpected goals were reached and at times surpassed. During his lifetime our membership grew to 50,000, then 60,000, then 70,000, and finally nearly 79,000. These were memorable milestones that were acclaimed from all quarters. But Dmytro Halychyn was never content with these victories. He knew that too many of our brethren were outside the ranks of our organization. His numerous activities brought honor and earlier realization of our goals and purposes. He therefore completely and vigorously applied himself to the task of building an ever greater organization. His numerous activities brought honor and glory to our Association on a world-wide scale. As we in the UNA family mourn his passing we must simultaneously dedicate ourselves to carry on the cause to which he was so devoted. We owe him a debt for all that he has done. We can repay him only by continuing to build and strengthen our Association in the same tradition of selflessness and tireless devotion that he displayed so admirably for the past three decades.

THE PASSING OF PATRIOT

A Message from the U.C.C.A. Chairman

The sudden and unexpected death of Dr. Dmytro Halychyn is both a shock and grievous loss to all who knew and admired him. The Ukrainian Congress Committee of America, in which he occupied the high office of president, expresses its profound bereavement over the passing of a patriot and conveys its sincere condolences to his wife and family. He leaves a legacy of devotion, selfless dedication, and high idealism which will always be the hallmark of the patriot's fight for justice and freedom.

In all truth, throughout his temporal existence Dr. Halychyn was "Mr. Ukraine." His earthy life was to the end a life of courage and sacrifice dedicated to the noblest of causes, freedom — the freedom of Ukraine which he loved so dearly, the freedom of his own United States, the freedom of man everywhere. He was respected and esteemed in the many councils in which he selflessly invested his rich resources of prudence, wisdom and statesmanship. His solid contributions were innumerable, but one of his last sterling efforts was directed toward the success of the Shevchenko Memorial.

"Mr. Ukraine" has left us, but his spirit, his inspiration, his wisdom reside immortally in our hearts and minds to carry on the fight which he never doubted will end in victory. We can offer no finer tribute to Dmytro Halychyn, in everlasting memory of his person and achievements, than to realize expeditiously and gloriously the goals of the Shevchenko Memorial under the nominal continuance of his executive directorship.

THE LATE PRESIDENT FULFILLED HIS OBLIGATION AS CHRISTIAN

Dmytro Halychyn fulfilled his Christian obligations prior to his death by going to confession and partaking of the Holy Communion.

According to the spokesman of the St. George's Ukrainian Catholic Church Rectory in New York City, the parish of which the late Mr. Halychyn was a member, he had gone to confession and had taken the Holy Communion at the St. George's church one day before his accident, on March 9, 1961.

After the accident, and until his death, he was attended by the Basilian Fathers of his parish church, who also performed the prescribed rites over the deceased shortly after his death.

October 30, 1895 — March 26, 1961

DMYTRO HALYCHYN

Dmytro Halychyn was born in the village of Dychky, district of Rohatyn, Western Ukraine, on October 30, 1895. That part of Ukraine was then under Austro-Hungary. When World War I broke out in 1914 he volunteered into the Legion of the Ukrainian Sichovi Striltsi and subsequently served in the Ukrainian National Army as a lieutenant for over three years taking part in the fight for freedom and independence of Ukraine, during which war he was wounded at the front.

After the defeat of the Ukrainian National Army in 1920, Mr. Halychyn went to Vienna, where he studied at the School of International Commerce at the Vienna University, from which he graduated in 1923. Immediately after his graduation, he emigrated to the United States, where he became extremely active in the Ukrainian American life.

Active Citizen

In 1929 he became a citizen of the United States and promptly joined the Republican Party, in which he became one of the most active leaders to the very last day of his life. In 1933 Mr. Halychyn was elected recording secretary of the Ukrainian National Association, Inc., the largest Ukrainian American fraternal association, which was founded by Ukrainian immigrants in Shamokin, Pa. and has grown into a powerful fraternal order with 79,000 members in the United States and Canada, and with $24,000,000.00 in assets.

UNA President

In 1950 Mr. Halychyn was elected president of the UNA, a post which he occupied until his death. Since 1933 to this day the UNA increased its membership from 20,000 to 79,000 and its assets grew in the same period from $3,000,000.00 to $24,000,000.00.

This growth of one of America's most powerful nationality fraternal groups was influenced by the vigorous and dynamic leadership which Mr. Halychyn provided as secretary and president.

In the 30's Mr. Halychyn was secretary and then president of the United Ukrainian American Organizations, which association endeavored to assist the people of Ukraine in their struggle for freedom and independence. In 1940 Mr. Halychyn as secretary of the Ukrainian National Association, Inc., was one of the founders of the Ukrainian Congress Committee of America, in which he served as treasurer, acting president, and president since 1955. During World War II, particularly after the United States was attacked by Japan, Mr. Halychyn directed Ukrainian American organizations in their patriotic activities, such as U.S. Bond Drive, Red Cross, and USO activities.

In the Republican Party

Mr. Halychyn was also active in American political life, becoming head of the Ukrainian Republican Committee of the State of New York in 1952, and also chairman of the Nationalities Division of the Republican Party. In this capacity he continued his activity in organizing Republican clubs throughout the country, and participated in all national, state, and local election campaigns. In 1960 during the national convention of the Republican Party in Chicago, Mr. Halychyn was made assistant secretary of the convention and appeared before the Republican Platform Committee to plead for the cause of the captive nations enslaved by the Soviet Union and for the liberalization of U.S. immigration laws.

In UCCA and CACEED

In the fall of 1952 Mr. Halychyn, along with 3 other executive officers of the Ukrainian Congress Committee of America undertook a mission in behalf of the American Committee for Liberation, to seek support and cooperation of the Ukrainian political groups in Western Europe with U.S. agencies.

Mr. Halychyn also was widely known among the various U. S. nationalities mainly through his active part in the Conference of Americans of Central and Eastern European Descent (C.A.C.E.E.D.), an American organization consisting of ten nation-wide nationality groups representing over 15 million American citizens of Central and Eastern European background, in which he was an executive officer.

Mr. Halychyn has been especially noted for his selfless and patriotic devotion to helping the Ukrainian people both in this country and in Europe in his position as president of the Ukrainian Congress Committee of America, which represents over 2 million American citizens of Ukrainian origin, and in his position as a member of the Board of Directors of the United Ukrainian American Relief Committee. He was also an executive officer in the Pan-

JOSEPH LESAWYER IS ACTING PRESIDENT OF U.N.A.

In accordance with the Constitution and By-Laws of the Ukrainian National Association, the duties and responsibilities of the late Mr. Dmytro Halychyn as UNA Supreme President, have been taken over by Joseph Lesawyer, UNA Supreme Vice President.

Section 35 of the UNA Constitution states the following: "In case of temporary inability or disqualification of the Supreme President to discharge the duties of his office, the Supreme Vice President shall perform all duties incumbent upon the Supreme President during such temporary inability or disqualification. But in the event of the death, resignation or permanent disqualification of the President to discharge the duties of his office, the Supreme Vice President shall perform all of the duties of the Supreme President until the election and qualification of his successor in office. He shall also perform all other duties as may be directed or assigned to him by the Supreme President or the Supreme Executive Committee." Mr. Lesawyer has been acting in this capacity since the unfortunate accident of Mr. Halychyn which occurred on March 10.

DMYTRO HALYCHYN MOURNED BY HIS ASSOCIATES AND SUBORDINATES

Monday, March 27 was just like any other day, beginning a new workweek. In the building on Grand Street in Jersey City, which is owned by the Ukrainian National Association everyone was also at his desk or machine proceeding with his or her normal duties, but over everyone was the awareness that their head man, the Supreme President of the UNA, and manager of Svoboda was no longer among the living. On both sides of the window from his second-floor office the flagpoles were flying the "Stars and Stripes," and the Ukrainian blue and gold flags at half mast. Black fabric was hung over the main entrance to the building. Messengers, delivery men, and passers-by were noticing the signs of mourning and some inquired about them.

Shortly after 10 AM, when the newspaper was already coming from the press, all work in the UNA building stopped, and the large editorial room of Svoboda, began to fill with people.

From upstairs came the members of the UNA Supreme Executive Committee who had just held a brief formal meeting in honor of the late President. They were followed by the office workers from the financial and recording departments of the UNA. The people from Svoboda administration came from across the hall. The printing plant employees turned off their machines and with the men from the distribution and mailing department and pressmen joined those in the editorial room. The editors and staff members left their desks and stood with the group.

In a brief ceremony that followed, Joseph Lesawyer, Acting UNA President, asked everyone to honor the memory of Supreme President Dmytro Halychyn with a moment of silence. He then made some announcements as to the funeral arrangements, and called on Supreme Treasurer Roman Slobodian, the oldest UNA member of those present, and close associate of the late President, to say a few words. DMYTRO HALYCHYN, PATRIOT AND CITIZEN

The untimely death of Dmytro Halychyn, Supreme President of the UNA and President of the Ukrainian Congress Committee of America, is a great and grievous loss to the entire Ukrainian American community.

From the very first days when Dmytro Halychyn, then a 28-year-old veteran of the struggle for Ukrainian independence, set foot on American soil, he was marked to play a leading role in the intricate, yet dynamic Ukrainian life.

But the patriotic devotion and zeal of Dmytro Halychyn were not limited to the Ukrainian National Association exclusively. He was an intrepid political and civic leader as well.

After World War II, when Soviet-American relations worsened and many Americans saw for first time Communist Russia for what she really was, the part played by Dmytro Halychyn in the Ukrainian Congress Committee of America, and in the formation of the United Ukrainian American Relief Committee, was one of paramount importance.

Moreover, Dmytro Halychyn was an active leader in the Republican Party, which he joined promptly after becoming a U.S. citizen in 1929, as he believed that it was his duty to take an active part in the political life of his adopted country.

Dmytro Halychyn was also widely recognized as a leader in non-Ukrainian groups as well. He was a member of the Board of Directors of the National Fraternal Congress of America, and was an executive officer of the Conference of Americans of Central and Eastern European Descent (CACEED).

One of the great projects in which Dmytro Halychyn was actively engaged was the Shevchenko Memorial Committee of America, of which he was elected executive director, the most important and responsible post in that committee.

Dmytro Halychyn has departed from us. But he has left a rich and exemplary heritage for our younger generation. That heritage comprises his selflessness, devotion to freedom, not only of Ukrainians but of all other peoples, a dedicated sacrifice to noble causes, enlightened liberalism, prudence and statesmanship, and above all, unqualified patriotism and good citizenship.

But, we think that we shall do justice to his memory, if we receive his rich and bountiful legacy, a heritage of unbounded patriotism, devotion to the cause of freedom and independence of Ukraine and all other enslaved nations, and emulate his idealism and his firm belief in the cause of justice and freedom.

HAPPY EASTER

A GREAT LOSS

By CLARENCE A. MANNING

The death of Dmytro Halychyn on March 26, 1961 is a great loss to the Ukrainian National Association of which he had been President for over ten years, but it is also an equal loss to the Ukrainian Congress Committee of America and his death will be felt not only by his friends and associates in those organizations, but far beyond the circle of Ukrainian interests, for he was one of the moving spirits in the entire area of the Captive Nations in the broad sense of the word.

Thirty Years of Service

For almost thirty years he had served either as Secretary of the Ukrainian National Association or as its President and it is not too much to say that he devoted his entire adult life to the cause of Ukraine and of the Ukrainians in the New World.

There is good reason for his position. He had been an officer in the army of the Ukrainian National Republic and of the Western Ukrainian National Republic during the last years of World War I and during the troubled period that succeeded it, when the failure of the United States to recognize the actual situation in Eastern Europe caused the downfall of the Ukrainian hopes for independence and postponed the day of that liberation that will surely come.

Natural Leader

The result was that he became the natural leader of that period of immigration into the United States which followed World War I and which saw the amalgamation of that group with the older groups which had arrived before the War and were only gradually learning of the vast progress of the Ukrainian national spirit which had developed in the homelands as a result of the Ukrainian efforts at liberation.

After World War II, when Soviet-American relations worsened and many Americans saw for first time Communist Russia for what she really was, the part played by Dmytro Halychyn in the Ukrainian Congress Committee of America, and in the formation of the United Ukrainian American Relief Committee, was one of paramount importance.

AT THE CROSSROADS

By WALTER DUSHNYCK

There are two all important problems which confront the Administration of President Kennedy and the American nations as a whole: relations with Soviet Union and the perilous situation in Laos.

As far as the Kremlin is concerned, all indications are now in evidence that the "suspended" cold war is being resumed and the Russians are resorting to their old antics and provocations. Even before the President sent a message to Khrushchev through Ambassador Llewellyn Thompson, he issued a warning to Khrushchev regarding his provocations in the Congo, stating that "there should be no misunderstanding of the position of the United States."

President held a top-level conference with his Soviet experts as to what course the United States should take with regard to USSR. Negotiate with Khrushchev or reject his proposals and hints to meet at a "Summit"?

Apparently there are two schools of thought regarding the over-all intentions of the Kremlin. One, which finds many adherents in Paris and Bonn, claims that the Kremlin is the same in its eternal drive for world conquest, and that no matter what the West does, the Russians will recognize only naked force and the balance of power.

The other theory maintains that not all is well inside Khrushchev's household, and that a "wrong" and tough Western approach to the Soviet Union may make the Soviet monster even more dangerous than it is now.

The U.S. government is apparently following a middle course, but is putting strong emphasis on the forthcoming Twenty-second Congress of the Communist Party which will be in recognition of his outstanding contribution to the cause of Ukrainian freedom and liberation, Mr. Halychyn was awarded honorary degree of Doctor of Political Sciences by the Free Ukrainian University in Munich. The Ukrainian American Professional Society named him the "Ukrainian of the Year" in 1959.

Mr. Halychyn was on the Board of Directors of the National Fraternal Congress of America, a member of the Shevchenko Society, and of the Ukrainian War Veterans.

It must also be recalled that Dmytro Halychyn was the moving force behind the proposed memorial for Taras Shevchenko in Washington, D.C. Mr. Halychyn initiated the action by writing a letter in this matter to Senator Jacob Javits of New York in 1958.

This Shevchenko drive on the centenary of his death was the prime community interest of Mr. Halychyn to the very last days of his life.

Mr. Halychyn is survived by his wife, Stefania, also active leader in Ukrainian American life, and three brothers: older brother John, and two younger brothers Joseph and Vasy, and their families.

I KNEW HIM FOR 27 YEARS

By THEODORE LUTWINIAK

Ukrainians all over the world are mourning the tragic death of Dmytro Halychyn, Supreme President of the Ukrainian National Association and a recognized leader of his nationality group. Not only Ukrainians, but other people as well, are saddened by his untimely passing—people in the fraternal field, people in American political life, people interested in the liberation of nations held captive by Communist Russia, and people in other walks of life who knew him.

I became acquainted with Mr. Halychyn in 1934. At that time he was Supreme Recording Secretary of the UNA. I was writing articles for The Ukrainian Weekly and this resulted in his interviewing me for employment in his department. I was 18 years old at the time. I accepted the position and worked under Mr. Halychyn from that time to the time of his unfortunate accident, not only in the UNA office, but at conventions and occasionally at home; he encouraged me to continue writing for The Weekly during all these years.

Mr. Halychyn took his position as Supreme Recording Secretary very seriously. He worked hard and long, typing his own Ukrainian letters and carefully checking English letters written by his staff before signing them. He gave even unimportant details careful attention. Even while modernizing the UNA insurance system he was busy planning membership campaigns designed to attract the Ukrainian American youth.

It was a privilege and an honor to have known Mr. Halychyn during the past 27 years. It is tragic that he has left us so suddenly. It is difficult to believe he is no longer with us. It is a great loss, for he was a great man. May he rest in peace.

Associates Mourn The President

As president, Mr. Halychyn carefully supervised all important matters pertaining to the organization—campaigns, organizational meetings and rallies, Svoboda, Soyzivka, The Ukrainian Weekly, mortgages, conventions, etc.—and he answered all letters addressed to him. In addition

NIKITA KHRUSHCHEV—GRAND INQUISITOR AND PURGER

By STEPHEN SHUMEYKO

Hitler Attacks
When on June 22, 1941, Hitler attacked the Soviet Union, Khrushchev was in Moscow. From there he hastened back to Kiev as a member of the Military Council. As political head of Ukraine, member of the Soviet Politburo, and as head of the Council, he became directly involved in all political, economic and military operations. He quickly gave orders for a quick evacuation of hundreds of factories, equipment, supplies, and livestock, with what was left behind to be destroyed. It was quite a sensational feat and was praised highly by Soviet and Western observers, and even won the grudging admiration of German commentators.

His next task, following the German overrunning of Ukraine, was to build up a Red partisan army. His liaison network tried to win over the Ukrainian insurgent forces, particularly the very powerful Ukrainian Insurgent Army, but with no success whatsoever. The heroic UPA fought for Ukrainian national freedom against Red Army units and partisans, and at the same time against the Nazi forces, on all fronts. In Western Ukraine, for example, the UPA held large territories.

Following the German defeat after the battle of Stalingrad and their evacuation of the whole of Ukraine, the Soviets for the first time truly realized how the Ukrainians hated them, a hatred even worse than their hatred of the Germans who had come with virtual promises of a free Ukraine, and then proceeded to treat them in a well-nigh same manner as that of the Russians. They demonstrated their hatred by continuing guerrilla warfare against the Soviet occupation troops on a vast scale.

they were joined by many NKVD units against these Ukrainian partisans, who were now called by the Reds—"Fascist insurgents."

Khrushchev had to take official notice of this. Thus in his report to the Ukrainian Supreme Soviet on March 1, 1944, Khrushchev attacked in great detail the Ukrainian nationalist insurgents whom he called Fascists and "traitors to the Ukrainian people."

He was, as I have always found him, a kindly and sympathetic gentleman, a man able to work wholeheartedly for a good cause and appreciative of what was done. He will be sorely missed by all who came into contact with him and we can only hope in the time honored phrase Requiescat in pace—May he rest in peace!

Red Amnesty Offers Ignored

Finally, in his report, he expressed the hope that promises of amnesty would decrease the Ukrainian insurgent forces. He cited one such offer, in form of an appeal of the Soviet Ukrainian Cabinet and Supreme Soviet in which the insurgents were promised absolute pardon if they surrendered to the Red Army—and death should they persist with their resistance ("Bolshevik," III, 1944).

These amnesty promises and appeals to the Ukrainian insurgents to lay down their arms met with deaf ears throughout the whole time. They kept on fighting, and the heroic fight was long and bitter. But finally the odds proved to be too much for them, and they had to go into guerrilla fighting in the hills and forests and in the underground.

This was after their main strength was broken, when the Soviets threw thick army cordons around the insurgent areas, followed by concentric attacks, and infiltrating agents and saboteurs into the insurgent units. Khrushchev and the NKVD used other means as well. The NKVD placed, in all of the Soviet occupied villages and towns, boxes for denunciations, and the people were encouraged, cajoled, persuaded, and threatened to drop their unsigned denunciations into these boxes addressed to the NKVD.

All of this was taking place while Khrushchev was deporting hundreds of thousands Ukrainians to the forced labor camps in the East, just as he had done earlier, during the German advance. And yet, ironically enough, in his anti-Stalin speech in 1956, he said: "... All the more monstrous are the acts whose initiator was Stalin and which were violations of the basic Leninist principles of the nationality policy of the Soviet State. We refer to the mass deportations from their native places of whole nations."

Here he mentions the Karachi, the Kalmyks, the Chechen Ingushes, the Kabardyno-Balkars, then he adds: "The Ukrainians (and here he is referring to 1944 when he was in charge of deportation of Ukrainians) avoided meeting this fate because there were too many of them, and there was no place to which to deport them. Otherwise he (Stalin) would have deported them also."

This section of Khrushchev's speech is eloquent in its omission of the fact that Khrushchev was responsible for the wholesale deportation and purging of Ukrainians and Jews after Ukraine was re-occupied by the Soviet troops. He also omits the deportation by his order of 250,000 Crimean Tartars and the 400,000 Volga-

Just as many of those who heard him, Mr. Slobodian could not quite fathom the thought that the man who just two weeks ago was in the center of activity, directing the work, and making plans for the future, was never to return. The Supreme Treasurer mentioned those who worked with Mr. Halychyn for most of his thirty-year span at the UNA Home Office, and those who were working here even before Mr. Halychyn assumed the executive office of the UNA.

Thoughts which passed through the heads of those who took part in the ceremony in the editorial office last Monday morning were expressed by the misty eyes of many of them. Each knew the late Dmytro Halychyn in his and her own special way. May God grant him peace!

Germans.

This section of Khrushchev's rapid rise to dizzying heights of power, following the death and de-mythification of Stalin, his elimination of those who aspired to succeed the former dictator, and the events since then up to this day pertaining to Khrushchev, the Grand Inquisitor and Purger of the Ukrainian people, all are too fresh in the minds of the readers of The Ukrainian Weekly—including that horrible massacre with the aid of tanks of the Ukrainian women in the Karagandi slave-labor camp, the continued suppression of religious freedom, the relentless hunt for Ukrainian patriots, underground and elsewhere, the deportation of Ukrainians to the "virgin lands" and the ruthless russification of the Ukrainian language and culture, all under Khrushchev's direction, is no need of repetition of them here.

Uppermost in the minds of all friends of Ukraine should be the resolve to rid that embattled country not only of Khrushchev but of the whole abysmally evil order for which he stands; and help the Ukrainian people to re-establish their free democratic Ukrainian national state.
