YOUTH RALLIES, CONVENTIONS, ATHLETIC MEETS HIGHLIGHT LABOR DAY WEEKEND

The rapidly approaching "long" Labor Day weekend of September 5, 6, and 7, traditionally set aside in our country for rallies, conventions and gathering of all kinds climaxed the long season of summer vacations, will bring together thousands of young Americans and Canadians of Ukrainian descent assembling for their annual conclaves at various sites scattered throughout the land.

Intensive preparations by special committees have been in progress for the past few months to ensure full and varied programs for guests and delegates flocking to the mass rallies.

SUMA GATHERS IN ELLENVILLE

The 13th annual rally of the Ukrainian Youth Association of America (SUMA) will take place at the organization's own resort in Ellenville, N. Y., starting September 5 through 7. Unlike in previous years, when two separate although simultaneous rallies were held in the east and in the west, this year's rally will have a marked national character as branches from the entire country will assemble in Ellenville. Conducted under the slogan "Ukraine will rise" and dedicated to the 150th birth anniversary of Taras Shevchenko and the 50th anniversary of the first modern Ukrainian military formation "Sichovi Striltsi", the rally will combine cultural, educational and sports activities as well as elaborate entertainment programs, concerts and dances.

Chicago Hosts ODUM Youth

The Organization of Ukrainian Democratic Youth (ODUM) will hold its 14th annual national convention in Chicago, Ill., which will begin on Saturday, September 5 in its own home here. In addition to a full schedule of business sessions, including reports of outgoing officers, discussions, elections and adoption of plans and resolutions, a number of social activities and entertainment has been included on the convention program that promises to be instructive and edifying.

The Ukrainian Youth League of North America (UYL-NA), one of the oldest and most prominent youth organizations in America, has selected Washington as the site of

UYL-NA Readies for Convention in Washington

Following the SUMA rally in Ellenville, the Ukrainian Student Association of Mikhnovsky (TUSM) will hold a week-long conference consisting of a series of lectures and discussions on the problems pertaining to the activities of the organization as well as general topics dealing with the program of the nationalist movement, ideology and political systems, social action, role of higher education, press and publication, current affairs here and abroad, and other topics of interest. Among outstanding speakers engaged for this seminar will be Dr. Nicholas Bohatuk, Dr. Peter Mirchuk, Bohdan Kulchytzky and others.

Plast Seniors Meet in East Chatham

Although the official camping season for the younger members of the Ukrainian Scout Organization Plast will end this coming weekend with an elaborate program of concluding ceremonies at East Chatham, N. Y., the activity of Senior Scouts will be extended through the Labor Day weekend, culminating in an all-Ukrainian rally of Senior Scouts from various parts of the world. Delegations from Europe, South America, Australia are expected to attend in addition to a large contingent of members from the United States and Canada.

Athletic Meets

Tennis players, swimmers and track and field athletes will cap the long season of training and preparation in meets and tournaments held annually at this time of the year to determine national champions in various sports and divisions. The popular tennis tournament and swimming competition will be held at Soyuzivka, bringing together athletes from all over the United States and Canada in a grueling three-day meet for the UNA trophies. Simultaneously track and field competition will be held at the "Dibrova" resort near Detroit, Mich. Both meets are being held under the auspices of the Ukrainian Sports Federation of the United States and Canada.

WASHINGTON, D. C. — The Ukrainian Youth League of North America (UYL-NA) has selected the Nation's Capital, home of the Shevchenko Monument, as the site for their 31st Annual Convention. Convention headquarters will be at the Shoreham Hotel, one of Washington's finest.

The Convention Committee is headed by Mrs. Ann Mimchak and Nadia O'Shea, who are assisted by Oleh Prociński, Vice Chairman; Peter Ledger, Treasurer; and Oksana Krawec, Secretary. Cooperating in this convention are: the Washington Branch of the Ukrainian Congress Committee of America; the Washington Branch of the Organization for the Defense of Four Freedoms for Ukraine; Branch 78 of the League of Ukrainian Women; St. Andrew's Ukrainian Orthodox Church; the Holy Family Ukrainian Catholic Church; and the Ukrainian Student Associations.

Fire in Kiev Academy Thought To Have Been Deliberate

The mysterious circumstances which led to the tragic fire in the Academy of Sciences in Kiev on May 27 have led many commentators of the Ukrainian press in the Free World to believe that the Communists deliberately set fire to his treasure-house of Ukrainian cultural memorabilia.

The purpose is evident though — a people without a cultural heritage, without historical documents which point to their once-sovereign status are well on their way to political oblivion. This, of course, the Russian Communists are well aware of, and for that reason here is the religious persecution and the steady destruction or take-over of a subjugated peoples' cultural heritage.

In a recent issue of "Vechnaia Moskva" (Eternal Moscow), a paper which is not allowed to circulate outside the Iron Curtain, an article reports that the fire in the Ukrainian Academy of Sciences was started by a woman librarian, who had "temporarily lost her mind." The report goes on to comment that not everything, but only materials pertaining to the years 1919-1920 were destroyed.

This only serves to strengthen the assumptions of the Western commentators. The years 1919 and 1920 mark important dates in Ukrainian history, as they were the period of Ukraine's hard-won sovereignty and struggle against Communist attempts to take over valuable documents which substantiated Ukraine's sovereignty and independently conducted political affairs with many Western and Asian nations.

Walter T. Darmopray Appointed Chairman of Ukrainian Division On Republican National Committee's Nationalities Division

Washington, D. C. — Walter T. Darmopray, young attorney from Philadelphia and executive vice-president of the Ukrainian Congress Committee of America, has been appointed chairman of the Ukrainian Division on the Nationalities Division of the Republican National Committee.

The Nationalities Division of the Republican National Committee is headed by Cong. Edward Derwinski (R. Ill.) and Dr. Lev E. Dobriansky, President of the Ukrainian Congress Committee of America.

Among Mr. Darmopray's most immediate tasks will be the appointment of state chairmen of the Republican party's Ukrainian Division and the establishment of an organizational network on a national scale.

Immediately following his appointment, Mr. Darmopray announced nomination of the following persons to head state branches of the GOP's Ukrainian Division: Taras Szmagala, Ohio; Myron B. Kurupas and

Walter T. Darmopray

John Duzhansky, Jr., Illinois; Atty. Michael Piznak and Mrs. Mary Dushnyck, New York; Walter Bey, Michigan; and Peter M. Bodnar, Arizona. Appointments of chairmen in other states will be announced in the near future.

Mayor Wagner Proposed Inclusion Of Ukraine on the Democratic Plank With Other Captive Nations

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J. — Mayor Robert F. Wagner of New York, in testifying before Committee One of the Committee on Resolutions and Plank of the Democratic National Convention recommended that the Democratic Party reaffirm "our friendship to the peoples of Albania, Bulgaria, Czechoslovakia, East Germany, Estonia, Hungary, Latvia, Lithuania, Ukraine, Poland and Romania, once free and sovereign nations and to all other peoples suffering under modern Red Colonialism."

Mayor Wagner testified in the Ball Room of the Convention Hall, packed with hundreds of delegates reporters and cameramen.

Mayor Wagner also proposed that the State Department organize a Citizens' Advisory Committee on the Captive Nations and that subcommittees be formed representing each of those nations.

"Such groups could give invaluable aid to our government on various problems and act as intermediaries between our foreign-language and nationalities committees and the government," Mayor Wagner stated.

Mayor Wagner also stated that earlier the All American Council held hearings on the proposed plan of the Democratic Party in 1964 and that various leaders introduced their suggestions and proposals. He cited part of Stephen J. Jarema's suggestions, which the Mayor included in his testimony:

"Stephen Jarema, Ukrainian delegate: After honoring Taras Shevchenko, the Ukrainian Bard, supports the ratification of the Genocide Pact and avoidance in the future of 'trite phrases' about captive nations... let us not insult the integrity of the millions of these 'all other captive nations.' Either name them all or don't name any of them give them the dignity which they rightfully deserve. Then request the formation of a House Committee on Captive Nations. 'Nothing seals the lips more firmly than death...' Urges a tougher line on communism..."

It is worthwhile mentioning that a representative of the American Committee for a Free Armenia also testified at the hearings and presented a cogent testimony in which he advocated the support of the non-Russian captive nations and assailed Secretary of State Dean Rusk for his contention that the USSR was a "historical Russian state." He also mentioned Ukraine as one of the largest non-Russian captive nations in the Russian communist empire.

Each of UCCA representatives was asked to submit 500 copies of his statement to be placed at the disposal of the Hearings Committee. In addition, an official stenographer took down all testimonies for the record of the Platform Committee.

(In spite of strenuous efforts on the part of the three Ukrainian American representatives, Ukraine was not included among the captive nations enumerated in the 1964 platform of the Democratic Party.—Ed.)

A Conference To Be Held by "ZAREVO" at the Ukrainian Homestead

On Saturday, August 29, 1964, a Conference will be held at the Ukrainian Homestead in Lehighton, Pa., dedicated to Jelen Kandyba Olzhych, the distinguished Ukrainian poet, scholar and political leader, commemorating the twentieth anniversary of his tragic death.

At the Conference three speeches will be delivered by "Zarevo" members from Philadelphia and New York. The first speaker, Vitaliy Keys (Columbia University), will discuss the literary achievements of the well-known poet; Marko Carynyk (Pennsylvania University), will discuss his activities as the prominent political leader and ideologue of OUN; and Ann Procyk (Columbia University), will speak about Dr. Kandyba's work as an aspiring archeologist.

On Sunday, August 30, a meeting will be held by "Zarevo" members from the following branches: Albany, Allentown, Baltimore, Chester, Cleveland, New York, Newark, Philadelphia, Utica and Washington. The primary purpose of this meeting will be to discuss the student association's activities during the coming academic year. Four speeches will be delivered by Michael Heretz, Osep Zinkevych Bohdan Hasluk and Paul Dorozhynsky who recently returned from Europe where he visited the main "Zarevo" branches on that continent. 'Soyuzivka' Employees to Present Concert Tonight

Kerhonkson, N. Y. — Highlighting this weekend's activities at Soyuzivka will be a concert staged by the working personnel employed at the UNA resort in the Catskills. Appearing on tonight's program will be the Soyuzivka women's choir under the direction of Ivan Zadorozhny, and an all-girl vocal quartet consisting of Lesia Waskiw, Anne Shevchenko, Lesia Hanushchak, and Myroslava Nahorniak. UCCA President Scores Stamp Advisory Committee for Failure To Issue Shevchenko Stamp

WASHINGTON, D. C. Aug. 18 (UCCA Special). — Dr. Lev E. Dobriansky of Georgetown University and President of the Ukrainian Congress Committee of America and the National Captive Nations Committee said today that the failure of the U.S. Government to issue a Shevchenko postage stamp in honor of Taras Shevchenko's 150th birthday anniversary this year was inspired by the Administration's fear of offending Khrushchev, the ruler of Ukraine. He also charged that "the conspicuous absence of the Administration's representatives at the Shevchenko unveiling" was evidence of the Administration's policy of accommodating the "Hagman of Ukraine."

These charges were brought out in Dr. Dobriansky's letter to the Honorable John A. Gronowski, Postmaster General, the first American of Polish descent to be a member of the U.S. Cabinet, and one who is said to know intimately the mosaic life of U.S. ethnic citizenry and its specific interests.

Last February, Postmaster General Gronowski was the guest speaker at the huge Ukrainian manifestation in honor of the 70th anniversary of the Ukrainian National Association at Carnegie Hall, where he was enthusiastically received as he spoke about the significance of Taras Shevchenko not only for the freedom-loving Ukrainian people, but for the cause of universal freedom as well.

In 1960 the U.S. Congress and the U.S. Government granted a site on federal grounds in Washington, D. C. for a statue of Taras Shevchenko. The Ukrainian American community collected over $350,000 for the project, while efforts were made in both the U.S. Congress and outside to issue a special Shevchenko postage stamp this year, his 150th birthday anniversary.

On June 27, 1964 over 100,000 Americans of Ukrainian origin flocked to Washington, D. C. for the solemn occasion of the Shevchenko statue unveiling, where former President Dwight D. Eisenhower delivered one of his most penetrating and its specific interests.

Waskiw, soprano, will perform several vocal renditions, while Misses Pashchak and Matviyenko will add oral recitations to the diversified program.

Youth Prepares for Rallies

By the time this issue reaches our readers, most of our younger set will be feverishly preparing and some already departing for the annual conventions, rallies and meets of their respective organizations. Taking advantage of the long Labor Day weekend our major youth organizations schedule their national gatherings at this particular time of the year thus bringing to a climax the period of summer vacations devoted to activities less strenuous on the mind and intellect which have to remain sharp during the months of academic studies.

Leading the parade of youth gatherings over the Labor Day weekend is the Ukrainian Youth League of North America which is holding its 31st annual convention in Washington. The huge and colorful SUMA rally, bringing together youthful members from all over the nation, will be held in Ellenville, N. Y., while the ODUM youth will gather in Chicago for its annual convention. The young Plast members, concluding their regular camping season, will give way to their senior leadership which will assemble in East Chatham, N. Y., for a three-day conference with delegations from several continents in attendance. Not to be outdone by the conventioners, the athletically minded will flock to Soyuzivka and Dibrova resorts for tennis, swimming and track and field competition held under the auspices of the Ukrainian Sports Federation of the United States and Canada.

These numerous conventions and rallies serve as evidence of the enormous scope of interests and activities of our youth. The realization that we stand at the threshold of a new and challenging era, an age of unexplored fields and yet unconquered problems will help them in their serious deliberations and in their selection of responsible leadership for the future. This last responsibility rests solely with the membership, their attitude toward the organization to which they belong, toward other Ukrainian youth groups and toward the Ukrainian community at large. The specific problems of each youth organization notwithstanding, it is the overall objectives of all Ukrainians in the free world that should crown the hierarchy of aims, goals and objectives. To be sure, this is one of the more somber aspects of each rally or convention, inasmuch as this year has been particularly rich in developments, what with the Shevchenko monument unveiling in Washington and the upcoming elections in November.—topics which are bound to be discussed whenever a group gets together.—it should be worthy of note to all participants that the convivial aspects should never be allowed to override the deliberative and the elective ones.

It is also worth-while to mention here that preceding the youth gatherings over the Labor Day weekend, a conference will be held at Soyuzivka which will bring together heads of youth groups and editors of their publications appearing as forth-page supplements of the Ukrainian Weekly. In an atmosphere that will be conducive to friendly deliberations, these leaders will have an excellent opportunity to discuss whatever problems there may be with the representatives of the UNA and the editors of Svoboda and the Ukrainian Weekly. Initiated by the UNA, which has always been responsive to the needs of our youth, the conference will not only reaffirm the close relationship that already exists between the UNA and our youth groups, but also study the possibilities of strengthening the ties even further and establish a stronger basis of cooperation to deal with problems at hand. The results of these discussions will no doubt be carried to the convention floors of the respective youth organizations where they will be brought to the attention of all membership.

At a time when strength, unity and mutual cooperation are most urgently needed, we wish to call on our youth to seek them with determination in the spirit of tolerance, responsibility and dedication. And, of course, included are our best wishes for fruitful and successful deliberations, and an enjoyable time to be had by all.

"Where Is Our Youth?"

By Myron B. Kurpach

(II)

A third factor with which we have to contend in considering what we can expect from our youth is the tremendous strides that have been made in North America in almost all areas of occupational endeavor. A wealth of new opportunities have been created in the last 20 years that call for more and more preparation. A high school diploma is no longer sufficient for those who want to "get ahead." College and even post-graduate work is deemed essential in many areas. As a result, many young people are forced to postpone assuming their adult roles until they have finished their education and established themselves in their chosen fields, for the most part, their school years, now prolonged through the early twenties, are years that are spent away from the Ukrainian scene.

Finally, there is the inevitability of assimilation. Once discrimination has ceased, no minority group in America has been able to adequately survive assimilation past the third generation. Ukrainians realized this almost thirty years ago. In the words of Prof. Stephen Mamchur:

"The processes in the direction of American culture and away from Ukrainian culture sketched above are, to reemphasize, natural, hence impersonal or automatic, unplanned or unconscious, and hence also inevitable. They are not products of 'volition' (on the part of individuals or groups), or benign kindness or perfidious intent. They are simply the resultants of a series of factors in a particular situation in the same manner, to use an analogy, as when certain progeny come together the product will be water."

Complaining about assimilation, writes Prof. Mamchur is about as effective as "Baying at the moon." What is needed to deal with assimilation is scientific knowledge... "man cannot eliminate processes that are. But he can affect the specific nature of the process by altering, not eliminating, the factors of the situation."

In considering what we should expect from our Ukrainian youth, we must also take into account the other side of the coin, namely, the North American Ukrainian community and its value and standards. What alternatives

THE ENCYCLICAL OF POPE PAUL VI

By Clarence A. Manning

No Synthesis of Values

The Encyclical which Pope Paul VI has recently issued is a most important document. It is closely argued on important subjects and it will stand comparison with the best of such Encyclicals which have been issued during the past centuries. Of course, it deals largely with purely religious matters and as such to persons outside the Roman Catholic Church it will be accepted in many parts in accordance with their own feelings and ideas.

At the same time there are aspects of it that are of predominant interest from a broader point of view, for it seems that the Pope has grasped firmly and clearly and recognized one of the most important needs of the Christian Church, the securing of an understanding of the real meaning of the modern scientific revolution. This was long overdue for the expansion of all the sciences, both social and natural, have literally swamped mankind with new discoveries, the import of which has not yet been digested.

Union of Christianity and Greco-Roman Culture

We often forget that this is not the first time this has happened. The adoption of Christianity by the Roman Empire in the fourth century immediately raised the question of the adaptation and union of Christianity and the Greco-Roman culture. We often forget that the men who finally worked out a synthesis were not bigoted and ignorant fanatics of the Faith. It is true that some were. Yet they were the leading Fathers of both East and West,—men who had been trained in all that Greco-Roman thought had achieved. They had studied, some as pagans and some as young Christians, under the best and most advanced teachers of the day and if today some of their solutions seem deficient and peculiar, they did not do the men of their own day. Rather they were brilliant summaries of the knowledge of mankind. Their conclusions dominated the second half of the first millennium A. D. during which the Christian Church and Christian culture had the gigantic task of civilizing and Christianizing the new races that were moving into the Empire. Yet as a result of the growing uncertainties, the dangers of travel and the inroads of Islam brought about a diminution in the exchange of knowledge throughout the Empire and a growing alienation of its parts.

To some degree the Crusades remedied part of this evil and the introduction into the West of Arab adaptations of Greek and Hebrew thought furnished the material for a reworking by the various schoolmen of the old culture and its modernization in terms of the West. St. Thomas Aquinas and others of his group accomplished much in working out for the time a Christian mode of life and thinking.

Threat of Communism Discussed

It was Pope John XXIII who first mentioned this aloud, although definite steps in that direction were taken under Pius XII. Now in this Encyclical Pope Paul VI has expressed again this hope, when Christianity is once more confronted as it has not been for centuries with the great non-Christian religions and the entire world is threatened by the power of atheistic Communism.

The Pope sees slight hope of this meaningful dialogue when the Church of silence is unable to raise its voice and make its contribution to the general discussion. The Pope has a far better grasp of the situation in all its stark realism than do the delegations of highly placed clergymen who stage good will visits to the Soviet Union and visit those shrines which the Moscow regime picks out for them in the name of understanding or of those high minded idealists who dream plans of reducing political tensions by sponsoring schemes for promoting large scale visits of Americans to the USSR as hostages of a sort for a similar group of Communists to visit and live in America in the fond belief that this would prevent a war and make all men friendly to one another and bid the lion lie down with the lamb, until it is ready to eat.

Constructive Change

It is this treatment of the non-Christian religions and the

of our Ukrainian youth organizations? Are our youth leaders willing to consider what we have to say even when they don't agree with us? Isn't it true that some of our "youth" leaders are people well into middle age who consider everyone under the age of 25 a "smarkach" without a brain in his head? Isn't it true that many of our young people have been thrown out of our youth organizations for daring to display a perfectly healthy will of their own by asking for reasons for what they were told to do?

Again we survive. We graduate from high school, go to college, become active in Ukrainian student organizations (where there is more freedom), graduate again, and return to the Ukrainian community still anxious to contribute something to the Ukrainian cause. We join the adult organization. What do we find? A handful of people knocking their brains out while the majority complains, criticizes, demands financial remuneration for the least little thing, and maintains a pompous, condescending (the "smarkach" complex is still there), "I know it all—it won't work" attitude. We also run into our Ukrainian political organizations, what Oscar Handlin calls "a minority within a minority." We discover that there lurks in our community one particularly militant (albeit numerically insignificant) political group that knows everything there is to know about Ukraine past, present and future, dogmatically refuses to adapt itself to life in North America, insists in running the whole show, refuses to compromise with other Ukrainian organizations because of some nebulous, never explained "principles," and considers anyone who dares to protest their actions as obviously, anti-Ukrainian.

Let us assume, however, that we are able to survive our early years and emerge with no great animosity towards our Ukrainian heritage. We are now in high school and, as most adolescents, we are trying to find ourselves, to try out our wings, as it were. Can we develop and grow in some

STATEMENT

On behalf of Ukrainian Congress Committee of America, Inc., by Joseph Lesawyer, Executive Vice-President, Ukrainian Congress Committee of America, President of New Jersey Fraternal Congress, Supreme President of the Ukrainian National Association, and Member of President Johnson's National Citizens Committee for Community Relations, before the Platform Committee at the Democratic National Convention in Atlantic City, New Jersey.

Mr. Chairman and members of the Platform Committee of the Democratic Convention:

It is a privilege and an honor to appear before you and to submit certain views and recommendations of the Ukrainian Congress Committee of America which we urge that you consider when framing the party platform.

Our Congress speaks for over 2,000,000 Americans of Ukrainian descent. In harmony with all serious thinking Americans, we are deeply concerned with the entire range of problems facing our country but on this occasion I would like to limit my discussion to foreign policy and more specifically to the problem of the nations in eastern and central Europe held captive by Russian Communist colonial imperialism. The background, experience, education, and special interest in the homeland of their ancestors, highly qualifies our group to realistically appraise this complicated situation and to make specific and reasonable suggestions which we trust your committee in its good judgement will adopt.

In its present attitude toward the Captive Nations in Europe, our government seems to be paradoxically proclaiming a just and sophisticated policy dedicated to self-determination, freedom, individual dignity, and national independence for all people while at the same time it pursues a day-to-day policy steadily leading to a permanent co-existence status with Soviet communism. Millions of formerly free peoples are constant witnesses to the phenomenon of intellectually-phrased lip service support given to the cause of independence, cruelly counteracted by deeds that starkly forecast the end of even such questionable backing in the near future. We contend that it is morally wrong and physically dangerous to adhere to or advocate a policy of co-existence with imperialistic Russian communism that is based on a recognition of the status quo and we urge the Democratic Party to take an opposing stand.

We are profoundly concerned with the fate and status of the millions of people in eastern and central Europe who are suffering grievously under the harsh and despotic Russian Communist rule. Czechoslovakia, Armenia, Poland, Ukraine, Bulgaria, Hungary, Georgia, East Germany, Romania, Byelorussia, the Baltic countries, and numerous others are kept under tight control by the guns of Moscow's military legions and secret police. Reports from behind the iron curtain indicate that increased efforts are being made to force the conformation of every individual to the needs of the state. Opposition to the regime and its demands is met with swift and severe punishment. But the spirit of resistance and hope for freedom has not been broken. Moscow is experiencing difficulty in maintaining order amongst its captives and our country should do everything legally and morally possible to increase this difficulty.

It has been argued that we are forced to face harsh realities in the daily political dealings with Communists which require unpopular compromises and that the insistence on correcting an injustice and demanding freedom and liberty for the captive nations held in slavery by a ruthless, reckless, and barbarous atom-armed foe might result in nuclear war and the incineration of all mankind. A few naive and trusting souls even advise extreme caution in pressing for the truth. No reasonable man can doubt that a grave risk is involved in firmly opposing an imperialistic power that stubbornly strives to expand its power by military force. But neither can we accept the thesis that the world can continue to survive for long half slave and half free. Tolerance of such inequities can only lead to eventual doom and we deplore it. We strongly urge that the United States vigorously champion the cause of the captive nations, make it clear that their plight has not been forgotten, and that the return of these nations once again to a free and independent status is very much desired by the Democratic party and all of our people. We strongly feel that the captive nations with their natural resources and manpower potential, represent one of the most, if not the most important factor in the free world's struggle against militant Russian Communist imperialism in order to preserve the principles and doctrines of our Western democratic way of life. It is imperative that the West win

UNA QUESTIONS ANSWERS

By Theodore Lutwiniak

Q. I read in your column that members of the Ukrainian National Association may pay their dues quarterly, semi-annually or annually instead of monthly and that there are appropriate discounts. Would there be even a bigger discount if dues were paid two or more years in advance?

A. Yes. There is a discount, computed on annual rates, of 3 1/2% compounded on dues paid two or more years ahead.

Q. Some years ago I asked about designating a contingent beneficiary on my UNA insurance certificate and was told that the organization would approve only the designation of actual beneficiaries. I recall reading in one of your columns that contingent beneficiaries are now being approved. Please explain.

A. A Recent UNA convention approved the naming of contingent beneficiaries. It is now possible for new applicants, as well as members, to name principal beneficiaries and, in the event of the death of the principal beneficiaries, contingent beneficiaries. A sample designation is as follows: "Wife Mary if living, otherwise children George and Anastasia."

Q. I already am a UNA member. I am interested in increasing my insurance protection. Would there be any specific advantage if I elected to take out this new insurance with the UNA?

A. Well, for one thing you would not have to pay for anything but the actual insurance since you are already paying all non-insurance charges on your first certificate (such as $8 monthly to the Indigent Fund, $6 monthly to the Convention Fund, $2 monthly to the National Fund). By the same token you should be exempt from all branch charges. If this new certificate you are thinking of taking out is for a face value of $5,000 or more, you will receive a dues discount of $1 per $1,000 per year. The insurance would be in full force immediately following the initial dues payment.

Q. I have my three children insured in the UNA. One of them is almost 18 years old and he is interested in being an active member with the right to vote at branch meetings. Can he get this privilege without taking out an adult certificate?

A. Yes. Holders of juvenile certificates in all classes except Term to Age 16, Term to Age 18, 16 Year Endowment, and Whole Life Paid-Up At Age 70, who are at least 16 years old, may become adult members with all privileges, without taking out new certificates, by signing the agreement to pay the adult funds amounting to 15¢ monthly. They would also be eligible for benefits from the Indigent Fund in the event of long-standing illness or permanent disability, and they may have double indemnity coverage if they so desire.

Q. I have a $500 Whole Life certificate with the UNA since 1954. I would like to increase this certificate to $1,000. What would this cost me?

A. It would cost you the difference plus interest, and you would be paying for protection you never had! Would it not be better to leave your $500 certificate as is and take out a new $500 certificate dated currently?

Q. I am 20 years old and have a job with group insurance coverage. Life insurance does not appeal to me; I am not interested in any kind of life contract. Still I would like to join the UNA. What would you suggest?

A. Have you given any thought to the 20 Year Endowment plan of insurance? This should appeal to you because you pay dues for only 20 years and then you receive a check for the full face value. There are annual dividends after two calendar years. Many young people like yourself have taken out this form of insurance because of the cash return while they are still living. But if you do not care for this the UNA has an Accidental Death and Dismemberment certificate, quite inexpensive, which is strictly accident insurance.

of such inequities can only lead to eventual doom and we deplore it.

We strongly urge that the United States vigorously champion the cause of the captive nations, make it clear that their plight has not been forgotten, and that the return of these nations once again to a free and independent status is very much desired by the Democratic party and all of our people.

We strongly feel that the captive nations with their natural resources and manpower potential, represent one of the most, if not the most important factor in the free world's struggle against militant Russian Communist imperialism in order to preserve the principles and doctrines of our Western democratic way of life. It is imperative that the West win back the freedom of the captive peoples within a reasonable future. With each passing year the power structure of Moscow's imperialism based on dynamic hard-headed materialistic philosophy and ruthless intimidation technique is corroding the opposition apparatus that still exists in all the captive nations. Time is working against the forces of freedom despite the evidences that an evolutionary process is in motion in the communist family regimes. Hard-nosed communist leaders will not relinquish control in this age no more than they did in the Soviet Union in the middle 1920's and more recently in China.

In conclusion, the Ukrainian Congress Committee urges this honorable group to include the following in the Democratic Platform:

1. A firm statement pledging support for the cause of freedom and national self-determination for all captive nations as indicated in Public Law 86-90 and to support policies that will lead to victory for truth, honor, and individual dignity in the present global struggle.

2. A statement underscoring that the political status quo in Central and Eastern Europe including the Soviet Union is unacceptable to the United States.

3. A pledge to use all diplomatic and economic bargaining power to help the rank and file in the captive nations to attain religious freedom and to obtain assistance for the clergy of all religious groups and faiths.

4. A pledge not to carry on activities or relationships with the communist regimes that tend to popularize them on the world scene.

5. A pledge to support the setting up of a Special Congressional Committee on Captive Nations as well as firm backing for a Freedom Commission and Freedom Academy to thoroughly and continually study and analyze the problems pertaining to communist imperialism.

many young people, it is essential to say 'cool' and 'coolness' involves detachment, lack of commitment, never being enthusiastic, or going overboard about anything."

Now we know why "cooling it" is the only possible answer to the question "where is our youth?" If we are honest with ourselves and fully appreciate the present situation, there is only one answer that we can give to our second question. As things stand, we can expect very little from our youth. We can expect even less if the present circumstances continue to prevail.

Still, despite all of our difficulties, I believe there is a solution to our problem. It will require a united and intelligent effort. It will require more work than words. But there is a solution.

STATEMENT

Submitted to the Democratic Platform Committee by Hon. Stephen J. Jarema, Chairman of the Ukrainian Division of the All Americans Council and Chairman of the American Conference for the Liberation of the Non-Russian Nations in the USSR.

Permit me to introduce myself. My name is Stephen J. Jarema. I am the Executive Director of the Ukrainian Congress Committee and honored to serve as Chairman of the American Conference For The Liberation Of The Non-Russian Nations In The USSR. Politically, I have been a member of the New York State Legislature and now serving as Democratic Counsel on the Ways and Means Committee of the Assembly of New York.

I have been the Chairman of the Ukrainian Division of the Nationalities Division during the campaigns of President Truman and our late beloved President Kennedy. I have been designated to serve as Chairman of the Ukrainian Division of the All Americans Council of the National Democratic Committee. I am a Member of the New York State Democratic Committee and an Alternate Delegate.

The Democratic Party Platform of 1960, in part, referring to the Communist world, stated: "... we will never surrender positions which are essential to the defense of freedom, nor will we abandon peoples who are now behind the Iron Curtain through any formal approval of the status quo."

Unfortunately, whether you consider it as such or not, we have embarked, unheralded, on a silent pursuit of co-existence, which in essence is nothing more than a status quo position in relation to the communist take-over of the captive nations.

I know, many members of your Honorable Body have been eloquently vehement against co-existence if it means adoption of communism and its evils and the continued status quo of the captive nations.

Time prevents a full discussion of this phase of co-existence, for it can mean one of several policies developed to prevent tension between the communist and non-communist world, or it can mean an ideological accommodation of the type advocated by many so-called liberal thinkers. I know you join with me in that we need not debate the desirability of avoiding actual warfare.

But the idea of an ideological accommodation with communism is repugnant, since the communist viewpoint of life is diametrically opposed to our basic principle of natural law. I consider that some type of "political" accommodation is justifiable and possible in an effort to avoid war, but the obvious continuing communist efforts to infiltrate and subvert can never be deemed and considered as justifiable or tenable.

Our tendency to lean backward in our effort to arrive at some sort of co-existence, has slowly undermined our position in the free world and has given greater impetus to the communist take-over in countries which we had once considered our friends and allies.

The recent attack on our destroyer by the North Vietnamese brings this home with an astonishing blow of reality. If my enemy spits in my face, I do not ask if he meant it, or to what degree... I must protect myself from a further occurrence.

As a Democrat, I urge you to give us the implements to work with in our communities. Let us unequivocally assert our leadership, and that we dedicate ourselves to the principles of national self-determination for All people, as enunciated by President Woodrow Wilson, "All Nations, large or small, are entitled to the God-given right of freedom for all, or else no one will be free..." Ladies and Gentlemen, All men are created equal and not some.

Yours is the challenging task of restoring American prestige and power in the world. Our Party can restore the waning hopes of freedom for the captive nations. I submit the following proposals for your consideration: Freedom for Captive Nations: We declare our deepest concern for the plight of the enslaved nations of Central and Eastern Europe, of Asia, Africa, and Cuba, now under iron heel of Russian Communist dictatorship. We resolutely uphold the principle of freedom for the captive nations enumerated in the "Captive Nations Week Resolution" (Public Law 88-90 enacted by Congress in 1959) and pledge our unqualified support to the freedom-loving peoples of these countries in their ceaseless struggle against Russian Communist imperialism and tyranny. We dedicate ourselves to vigorously press before the United Nations and other world forums the cause of the captive nations until full freedom is restored to these subjugated lands.

On behalf of the organizations which I am privileged to represent, I strongly urge the inclusion of the proposed platform as presented to this Committee by Professor Thomas Hovet, Jr., on behalf of the Ad Hoc Committee on Human Rights and Genocide Treaty, urging the ratification of the Genocide Treaty. I have, in the past three Conventions, appeared before similar bodies of yours urging a platform ratifying the Genocide Convention. Now is the time for Leadership... To delay, is to lose the battle.

UYL-NA Foundation News

The Ukrainian Trend is only one of the many successful projects being advanced under the auspices of the UYL-NA Foundation. It is published quarterly and issues coincide with the four seasons of the year. It is informative, educational from the historical viewpoint and inspiring for those who need encouragement. It contains articles of current interest, past achievements of note and absorbing cultural items for future advancement with every means at our disposal through a coordinated effort for success.

Articles are usually published, which are meant to inform and especially the younger generation of new graduates whose general knowledge is rather limited with regard to various aspects of Ukrainian American organizational life. A copy of the Trend can be most helpful, since it contains information regarding youth activity that cannot be obtained from any other source in the country. Subscription is only $2.00 per year for four issues that are published by the current editorial staff headed by A. F. Danko. An order and payment for a subscription can be mailed to W. Bodnar, c/o UYL-NA Foundation, 2 East 29th St., New York 21, N.Y., who is currently handling the circulation of this booklet.

At present, great emphasis is being placed to attract a large attendance at the 31st UYL-NA National Convention to be held in Washington, D.C., at the Shoreham Hotel during the forthcoming Labor Day week-end from September 4 thru 7, 1964. All member club delegates and individual League members are expected to support this four-day conclave of constructive activity. However, guests will be most welcome and especially prospective new members, perhaps with latent talent that can be developed for future leadership in the League. In addition, this convention offers the wonderful opportunity of establishing social contacts that can be expanded further in the future. Also, it is a good place for the interchange of proven ideas with people from other localities; all with the same basic heritage and striving to achieve similar goals for the ultimate benefit of all Ukrainian people.

The 1964 Foundation fund drive is entering the last quarter of the year and the donor list still lacks many contributors from previous years. No doubt, this lack of response has been due to an oversight on the part of many. With that fact in mind and as a general reminder, there is still time to make your donation this year by mailing it to: UYL Foundation Fund, P.O. Box 26, Carteret, N. J. All contributions are tax deductible and will be gratefully acknowledged with appreciative thanks by the Chairman, Eugene Wadiak. As in the past, all funds are utilized to advance projects that will prove to be of value to each and every member of the League, in due time.

A special appeal is once again being made for news from various sections of North America. During the past year, response in that respect has been rather poor since only two areas furnished items concerning League activity for national publication. At least a dozen locales should have been interested enough to publicize events; if only some one had taken the initiative to send in the essential facts. It is still not too late to commence corrective action, which can be started by one individual from each area being delegated with the authority to mail in the news items to the following address: M. Steblecki, 222 York St., Jersey City 2, N. J. No elaborate writeup has to be prepared for submittal because a brief concise listing of accurate facts will suffice. However, all items received for publication will be edited to insure the best possible presentation. The important support and co-operation of all interested League members is being solicited and will be most appreciated, as in the past. Michael Steblecki, Publicity Director UYL-NA Foundation

Ukrainians in Illinois to Honor Charles H. Percy

Dobriansky to Speak at Banquet Honoring Republican Gubernatorial Candidate

Chicago, Ill. (MB)—In an effort to spark the campaign of Charles H. Percy, Republican candidate for governor of Illinois, the American Ukrainian Republican Association of Illinois (AURAL) has scheduled a testimonial banquet honoring Mr. Percy for Saturday, September 19. Present at the affair will be Cook County Republican Chairman, Timothy Sheehan, a number of other prominent Republican candidates for state office, and Dr. Lev E. Dobriansky, Vice-Chairman of the Republican National Committee, Nationalities division.

According to Myron B. Kuropas, President of American Ukrainian Republican Association, the banquet will set a precedent for Ukrainian Republican activity in Illinois. "To my knowledge," said Kuropas, "this is the first time that Ukrainians in our state have attempted to honor a gubernatorial candidate in this fashion... all of our members are very enthusiastic about Mr. Percy and feel that this banquet is the least we can do to help him."

The Percy banquet is one of a series of affairs scheduled for this fall by Ukrainians throughout the United States. Similar affairs are planned for Ohio, Pennsylvania, and a number of other states where Ukrainians predominate, in an all-out effort to bring in the Ukrainian vote for the Republican party in this crucial election year.

Tickets for the Percy banquet may be obtained from any AURAL member, from AURAL headquarters, 2435 W. Chicago Avenue, or from the Ukrainian American Book Store, 2315 W. Chicago Avenue. The banquet will be held at the Sherman House Hotel.

SPIRITED COMPETITION

"ZAREVO" Students Conferred In Leighton

Leighton, Pa. (wp). — On August 1 and 2, 1964, a Conference was held by the Ukrainian Student Association "Zarevo" in Leighton, Pa., at which the problems of Ukrainian statehood were discussed. The Conference was opened by the president of "Zarevo," Mr. Michael Heretz and it was presided by Mr. Bohdan Turcheniuk.

The program of the Conference consisted of two speeches.

The first speech was delivered by Mr. Michael Heretz who spoke on the subject of "The causes of our lack of an independent national state." Mr. Heretz, in his well planned speech, analyzed the views on this subject of three prominent Ukrainian ideologues: D. Donatov, I. Mazepa and V. Lypynsky. In his concluding remarks Mr. Heretz stated that the primary cause for the absence of a strong, independent Ukrainian national state is our excessive individualism which often leads to hostility and struggle between various Ukrainian political groups. Mr. Heretz corroborated this statement with historical facts and data.

The second speech, on the subject of "A realistic approach to the possibilities of an independent Ukrainian State," was delivered by Mr.

Volodymyr Bakum. Mr. Bakum, in his well prepared speech, stated that we should not dispute the existence of Ukrainian state. The independence of Ukraine was proclaimed by the Fourth Universal, Mr. Bakum continued, and even the Bolsheviks did not have the audacity to revoke it. Despite intense Russification and Sovietization in Ukraine, added Mr. Bakum, the contemporary literature in Ukraine clearly indicates that deep love for the Ukrainian land and language was not extinguished in the hearts of the youth in Ukraine. Despite the invigorating remarks mentioned above, Mr. Bakum concluded his speech stating that in view of the complicated world situation, there is little hope that Ukraine will regain its freedom from the communist yoke in the near future.

The speeches were followed by a lively and interesting discussion. Those participating in the discussion were: O. Bakum, O. Bak-Boychuk, M. Belendiuk, Mr. Demianchuk, B. Hasiuk, Mr. Chemych, O. Vrublvisky, O. Zinkevych and others.

There were about sixty members of "Zarevo" present at the Conference representing all branches in the eastern part of the United States.

trating addresses on the value of human freedom as understood and fought for by Shevchenko. Despite several attempts to have a high representative of the U.S. Government unveil the statue, the Administration ignored the request, thus giving substance to persistent rumors that Washington officialdom boycotted the Shevchenko observance for fear of irritating Nikita Khrushchev and the Soviet Russian government, the colonial and imperialist masters of captive Ukraine.

Dr. Dobriansky's letter to Postmaster General Gronouski follows:

"Dear Mr. Postmaster General:

"Because of my successive preoccupations with the Shevchenko statue unveiling, Captive Nations Week and several other projects, not to mention your trip to Europe, I haven't had the opportunity until now to reply to your last letter concerning the issuance of a Taras Shevchenko Freedom stamp.

"It was a source of profound disappointment to learn from you that the Citizens' Stamp Advisory Committee had rejected the proposal. I seriously doubt that the Committee was fully aware of the present significance of Shevchenko in our struggle with Soviet Russian imperio-colonialism, and I am certain that the decision of an advisory group is scarcely all-decisive. Judging by the conspicuous absence of the Administration's representatives at the Shevchenko unveiling, no doubt for fear of how Khrushchev might react, I think it would have been more accurate to state that the Administration's policy of accommodating the Hangman of Ukraine precluded the issuance of the stamp.

"One paragraph in your letter mystifies me greatly. You state: 'As I think you know, the Champions of Liberty series for which the Shevchenko stamp had been proposed was discontinued in 1961. I think this was an important factor in the Committee's decision.' The next paragraph refers to the limited '15 commemorative stamps a year,' which actually and in fact was the series for the Shevchenko proposal as advanced by all, including Congressmen Lesinski, Dulski, Rouss and dozens of other legislators. It is strange, indeed, for a committee to predicate its supposed decision on the 'important factor' of an original proposal in 1960 when the Champion of Liberty series was in existence.

"It would seem from this that a stigma is placed on a proposal if it had been associated in any way with the Champion of Liberty series. Considering the educational and also real propaganda value of that series, not to say its economic value as well, it was a grave mistake to eliminate the series in 1961 and fail to substitute an adequate freedom series for it. This imprudent action was surely the first step toward the Administration's acceptance of Khrushchev's deceptive 'peaceful co-existence' scheme. We all know how penetrating several Champion of Liberty stamps were behind the Iron Curtain.

"By no means have we ceased to fight for a Shevchenko freedom stamp, indeed for a specific Captive Nations Freedom series which would include stamps in honor of this freedom fighter as well as many others who dwell firmly in the inspired souls of their respective captive peoples. Illegitimate Communist governments will of course oppose such a freedom series, but we would scarcely be free men, true to our own traditions and honest toward the captive nations, if our actions were to be determined by the likes or dislikes of unrepresentative, totalitarian regimes.

"I regret deeply that your own eloquent words about recognizing Ukraine and its aspirations for freedom, expressed last February at Carnegie Hall, were not concretely translated into the deed of a Shevchenko freedom stamp, particularly on the unprecedented occasion of the Shevchenko statue unveiling in June. Even a casual observer can see the incompatibility of word and deed. As the record well shows, our Congress speaks freely and does so freely in behalf of our natural allies in the Communist Empire. I sincerely hope that the Administration would seek to do likewise."

Montreal Team Suspended

The Montreal Italia soccer team has been suspended from further participation in the Eastern Canada Professional Soccer League for the balance of this season.

The suspension was announced by league president Bill Simpson, following a dispute between Montreal manager Aldo Cecchi and referee Hugh McLean during a Toronto Italia-Montreal Italia match which was called ten minutes before the end.

Toronto was leading 5-0 when the referee ordered one of the Montreal players off the field for using abusive language. Cecchi ran on the field to dispute his ruling and after a heated debate, which he obviously lost, ordered his team to leave the pitch.

Confusion followed and some further words between Cecchi and McLean and the referee blew his whistle to signify the end of the game.

Montreal had two more games to play, both against Toronto Roma, and the points were awarded to the Toronto team. Toronto Italia was also awarded the victory in this game which was played in heavy rain before some 290 spectators.

Toronto City In First Place

Toronto City clinched first place in the league with a 1-0 victory over Hamilton Steelers in Hamilton last Sunday.

City has one more game left to play, but the outcome will not change its standing. The team will meet Toronto Roma and Italia will play against Hamilton on September 2 in the first of a two-game total-gol series semi-final playoffs.

Olympic Soccer

The Olympic soccer tournament will begin October 11 and the first phase will be over by October 14. The eight teams which will survive past that date will fight it out for the three medals.

The Europeans are considered the strongest of the lot with such powerful sides as Yugoslavia, Romania, East Germany, Hungary, Czechoslovakia and Italy.

The rest of the field includes Japan, Iran, Mexico, North Korea, South Korea, Morocco, Brazil, Argentina, Ghana and United Arab Republic. In an exhibition match played in Hungary, the Hungarian eleven handed the Japanese representative a 6-1 defeat. Japan is in group D with Argentina, Ghana and Italy. Group A includes East Germany, Romania, Mexico and Iran. Group B includes Yugoslavia, Hungary, North Korea and Morocco and Group C has Czechoslovakia, Brazil, UAR and South Korea. The first two in each group will advance to the final playoffs.

Di Stefano Transfers

Alfredo Di Stefano, the great center forward of Real Madrid, has been transferred to Espanol of Barcelona.

Di Stefano, during his years with Real Madrid, has played in 511 games and scored 461 goals. During that time he earned $1,500,000.

Espanol is hoping, according to press reports, that he will give them the same results in goals although the pay is going to be much smaller.

Glasgow Celtics offered Di Stefano $1,500 a week to play with them but the Spaniard refused. He also turned down an offer of $75,000 for the entire season.

Celtic manager Jimmy McGrory, who conferred with Di Stefano said that "we lost in our big effort but I think everything was worth while. He may consider us next year." The Celtic manager said that the amount they offered was the largest by any team on the British Isles and only a star like Di Stefano could command that much pay.
