UNA District Committees Meet, Elect Officers

ACCENT IS ON MEMBERSHIP DRIVE

JERSEY CITY, N. J. — Plans to step up organizational activity in the months ahead were accentuated at every District Committee meeting of the Ukrainian National Association, held in several communities this past weekend.

February and March are the months of such meetings, which are of triple significance in the overall activity of the UNA. First, officers and members are informed of the progress made in the past twelve months. Second, elections are held to determine the best possible leadership for period ahead. Third, plans are mapped out and assignments are allocated on the basis of specific needs as reported by branch officers.

The meetings are attended by Supreme Officers, who report on the overall progress of the organization, point out some of the shortcomings, offer suggestions and respond to queries posed by the branch officers. They also register whatever comments are made by the latter group and seek to implement suggestions made, as it were, from below. This year the accent is on the three-year membership drive designed to raise the "Soyuz" membership to the 100,000 level by 1969, the year of UNA's 75th anniversary.

Quotas are being assigned, based on tabulations compiled over the past twelve months, possibilities of expanded activity are being studied in specific areas, and appropriate recommendations are passed on to both officers and members.

The drive is expected to pick up momentum as the months go by, with the vast apparatus of the UNA going all out to fulfill and possibly exceed the assigned quotas of new members.

Bowlers Set Eyes on UNA Tournament in Rochester

ROCHESTER, N.Y. — Preparations for the Second Annual UNA Bowling Tournament are going along at a brisk pace, according to Chairman William Hussar. Requests for rooms have already started to pour into the Manger Hotel which is being called "Tournament Headquarters."

Since the UNA has only been allotted 75 rooms it is imperative that those planning on making it an overnight stay make their reservations early.

The reason for this is that on April 13th the WIBC (Women's International Bowling Congress) opens its tournament in Rochester and has scooped up all available hotel and motel space from that date on until the tourney closes May 26th. So, let's get those reservations in. A meeting of the committee is being held tonight, Saturday, March 4th at the Ukrainian American Club starting at 7:30 p.m.

Chairman Hussar has received letters from UNA Supreme Advisors Helen Olek of Chicago and Andrew Jula of Ambridge, Pa., stating that they will attend.

The tournament, staged on a national scale for the second year in a row, will be held in Rochester, N.Y., April 15th. Men's and women's teams representing UNA Branches will vie for trophies and cash prizes amounting to over $1,000.

Entry blanks, which were mailed out to all UNA Branches, should be returned to Bowling Committee secretaries by April 1. The entry fee is $25 per team. Men's team entries should be sent to Mr. John Sorokti, 3810 St. Paul Blvd., Rochester, N.Y., 14617. Women's teams register with Miss Mary Heiden, 103 Meadowood Road, Rochester, N.Y., 14616.

Olga Malishak is First Woman to Head UNA District Committee

WILKES-BARRE, Pa. — This city which made a marked contribution to the development of the Ukrainian National Association has added another first to the list of its many past accomplishments.

Once the cradle of UNA activity, particularly during the pioneering stage, Wilkes-Barre gave "Soyuz" its first woman district committee chairman.

Mrs. Olga Malishak gained the distinction when she was elected chairman of the Wilkes-Barre UNA District Committee at the annual meeting held here Saturday, February 25.

Mrs. Malishak has been secretary of UNA Branch 29 for nearly 20 years and has attended five UNA conventions as a delegate from the area.

Joining Mrs. Malishak on the executive board are: Mrs. W. Waligun, vice-chairman, Mrs. K. Lukach, treasurer, W. Stefurny, secretary, Mrs. E. Waslawsky, Mrs. M. Bolowsky and J. Hrancecin, members.

Thus five out of seven posts on the committee went to women, an unprecedented case that may have far-reaching ramifications in UNA's administrative and organizational setups. The election of women officers on the branch and district levels goes hand in hand with similar trends in membership gains.

Mrs. Olga Malishak

As yet there are no signs of large-scale displacement of men by women officers in the organization as a whole, but the rise to prominence of women organizers in the projected three-year membership drive to reach the 100,000 plateau may bring about substantial changes in this respect. At any rate, it appears that UNA male officers and organizers are in for a lot of competition from an unexpected if welcome source.

Preceding the meeting here was a brief course for branch secretaries given by UNA Supreme Treasurer John Kokolski and Supreme Advisor Stepan Hawrysz, who is also UNA's regional organizer.

UNA TO SPONSOR INTERNATIONAL SOCCER MATCH

ALL-UKRAINIAN TEAM TO FACE DUNDEE OF SCOTLAND IN MAY

By OLEH ZWADIUK

JERSEY CITY, N.J.—The Ukrainian National Association has agreed to sponsor an international soccer match between a squad of Ukrainian All-Stars and Dundee of Scotland on May 10, 1967, at John F. Kennedy stadium in Harrison, N.J.

The match, to be played under floodlights, is the first of its kind ever attempted by a Ukrainian All-Star team. It is also the first time for the UNA to be involved in soccer on an international level. Dundee, a formidable Scottish side, made its last appearance in the United States in 1959. They played at Ebbets Field just before that ball park was razed, against West Bromwich Albion of England, Halsinborg of Sweden and Legia of Poland.

Dundee is embarking on an extensive tour of the United States and Canada during May and June under the auspices of the American Soccer League. The team won the Scottish League championship several times and garnered the coveted Scottish F.A. Cup four times in the last decade. Its roster includes several Scottish internationals who represented their country in World Cup competition and matches all over the world. The Ukrainian team is expected to be made up of the best Ukrainian talent available in the United States and Canada. A spokesman for the UNA said that officials responsible for the meet will canvass all Ukrainian soccer clubs in hopes of getting the best players for the squad. The team is to be managed by Eugene Czywowych, who is also chairman of the game committee.

In making the announcement, the UNA spokesman said that the entire event is to be a "UNA Soccer Night" with all types of activities before and during half-time intermission and a reception after the match. Joseph Lesawyer, Supreme President of the Ukrainian National Association, is expected to make a short speech honoring the affair. Among the personalities at the affair, the UNA expects to have the mayor of Harrison, N. J. and mayors of other communities in that area. Numerous Ukrainian sports figures from the U.S. and Canada will be on hand to take part in this international game.

Roma Romaniuk, Miss Soyuzivka 1967 will be an official hostess at the game, aided by her ladies in waiting. In staging this event, the Ukrainian National Association is embarking on an expanded program of various activities, not necessarily limited to sports alone, to appropriately mark its 75th anniversary which is two years away. It is expected that other events on a national or even international scale will be staged in the future involving the best Ukrainian talent in the U.S. and Canada. The international soccer game on May 10th is expected to attract large contingents of Ukrainians from New Jersey, New York, Pennsylvania and Connecticut. The Ukrainian All-Star team will be announced in the near future, and preparations will begin to field a strong squad that can challenge the visitors from Scotland.

Michael Starr to Bid For Tory Leadership in Canada

TORONTO, Ont. — Michael Starr, Conservative MP for Ontario riding, has entered the race for his party's leadership, according to a dispatch published in the Toronto Daily Star of February 21.

He said in an interview that he would be a candidate when the leadership convention is held in Toronto next September. "I have just as good a chance as anybody else," he said.

Starr later said he does not think John Diefenbaker will contest the leadership. Starr, minister of labor under Diefenbaker, said he plans to run if Diefenbaker is not a candidate, adding he does not think Diefenbaker will be.

Long a staunch supporter of Diefenbaker, Starr first was elected to parliament in 1952 and has been reelected in each subsequent federal election. Starr was the highest ranking government official of Ukrainian descent ever in Canada when in 1957 he was appointed minister of labor in the federal cabinet headed by Diefenbaker.

Before entering federal politics, Starr (Starzewsky) was mayor of Oshawa. He has always been active in Ukrainian affairs on both sides of the border and has appeared frequently at major Ukrainian events.

If Starr is elected leader of the Progressive Conservative Party — and he is one of the top five candidates — he could become the first prime minister of Canada of Ukrainian descent.

NEW YORK, N.Y. — A capacity audience of children and grown-ups warmly applauded the premiere of the Ukrainian rendition of "Cinderella," a three-act children's ballet presented here last Sunday, February 26, by the Roma Pryma-Bohachevsky School of Ballet.

Comments of "enchanting," "just lovely," and "remarkable achievement for such a young group" floated out into the wintry evening as the members of the audience — over 800 strong — streamed out of the Fashion Institute of Technology after the performance. The colorful ballet, adapted BRONX, N.Y. — The Fordham University Ukrainian Club was presented with an opportunity on February 17th to enhance its knowledge about the Ukrainian National Association, largest Ukrainian fraternal organization. The speaker was Mrs. Mary Dushnyck, Vice-President of UNA, who was introduced by Roman Sawycky, president of the Ukrainian Club and senior at Fordham.

Held in a classroom at venerable and stately Keating Hall on Fordham's Rose Hill Campus in the Bronx, the lecture was heard by a group of Ukrainian American youth at a Friday morning meeting.

Opportunities, Benefits

Mrs. Dushnyck in her discourse pointed out the opportunities that the UNA, largest Ukrainian American youth organization with over 25,000 members, offers students. Benefits derived from UNA membership consist of the education policy, borrowing at low interest rate for tuition, scholarships, etc. Besides monetary benefits, there are scores of social, cultural and educational advantages for the youth. Furthermore, the fraternal aspect of the UNA, Mrs. Dushnyck stressed, develops leadership qualities for active participation in American and Ukrainian communities. Employment opportunities during the summer vacation as counselors in the children's camps and as "Soyuzivka" personnel were also explained. One of the most significant opportunities for youth is the UNA Cultural Courses held annually at "Soyuzivka" during August, at which Ukrainian history, geography and literature as well as Ukrainian folk dancing and bandura construction, are taught. Outstanding lecturers are invited to address the students. Soyuzivka Also outlined briefly were the cultural, sports and even religious benefits derived from a vacation at "Soyuzivka" and the opportunity to meet Ukrainian youth from all over the U.S. and Canada. The speaker also gave a brief history of the UNA and informed her listeners of the UNA publications and encyclopedias — one published and the other to appear shortly, which she advised the students to include in their home libraries. After answering questions submitted to her, Mrs. Dushnyck distributed to the members of the Ukrainian Club at Fordham University brochures about the UNA and "Soyuzivka," as well as scholarship applications.

Spearheaded by Ted Yatchilla, LUC's energetic membership chairman, the drive is gradually picking up momentum. As an added incentive, LUC has announced three awards to be given out at the end of the current drive terminating April 30.

The first award, a $100 cash prize or a portable TV set, will go to the person enrolling the greatest number of members in the entire organization.

Who is eligible for LUC membership? Catholics in good standing of the Ukrainian Catholic Church who have submitted an approved application, and other Catholics who have submitted an approved application signed by a priest of the Ukrainian Catholic Byzantine Rite, sponsored by a member in good standing and willing to abide by the LUC constitution.

To expedite the book-work necessitated by the membership contest, the LUC executive board requires each Council to keep its own records of the number of persons each member is credited with enrolling.

The executive board has made strong appeals to both its Councils and members to intensify their efforts in the next two months to bring this campaign to a successful conclusion.

Chester's Fine Community is Active in Ukrainian Affairs

CHESTER, Pa. — Chester is a comparatively small city situated on the Delaware River just 15 miles below Philadelphia.

Dwarfed by the huge city complex that stretches across the Eastern Seaboard from Boston on down to Philadelphia, the city of Chester takes no back seat to any of them.

Neither does the Ukrainian community which maintains a whole range of activities for the benefit of its members.

Own Radio Program

The community boasts of its own Ukrainian language radio program on Saturday, from 11 a.m. until 12 noon, on station WXUR. The program is directed by Paul Malynowsky, with Andrew Zabrowsky serving as announcer.

There is a Baptist, a Catholic and an Orthodox Ukrainian church in the city serving the faithful of the three denominations. There are also three Ukrainian community homes, which house civic and youth organizations, affording an opportunity for an active social life.

The community has branches of the four Ukrainian fraternal orders and a chapter of the Ukrainian Congress Committee of America.

Chester organized its first basketball team in the early 1940's, which participated in the national tournaments sponsored by the Ukrainian dance, drawing bursts of applause from the enthusiastic audience.

The performance marked the first time that the classic children's story has been given a Ukrainian interpretation.

In addition to Ukrainian dance steps and routines which Miss Pryma wove into her choreography, the ballet was given a further Ukrainian flavor by a musical score composed "in the Ukrainian spirit" by Dr. Sonevitsky.

The role of Cinderella was danced by 14-year-old Kvitka Cisyk. Also dancing principal roles were Lilla Kovalenko (the prince), Nina Babiak (fairy godmother), Christy Slyvotska (stepmother), Hanusia Rohoza and Oksana Hawryliuk (stepsisters), Ulan Inytsky (queen) and Vera Semuschak (king).

Other Roles

Other members of the troupe were fairies, pages, princesses, dukes, duchesses, court jesters, debutantes, twinkling stars, heralds, doves, mice and ponies.

Miss Pryma, who has won renown with her solo recitals in the major cities of the world, studied in Lviv, Vienna and New York. She made her New York debut in 1961 with a program of numbers based on or suggested by the folklore of Ukraine.

A Ukrainian All-Star Team at Last

In American and Canadian sporting circles the word 'Ukrainian' is synonymous with soccer supremacy. We have had great teams with equally great players who managed to inscribe the word 'Ukrainian' in numerous record books for all times.

Won Every Honor

We won all sorts of honors, all kinds of trophies and cups. We started out, in the early fifties with teams loaded with talent. Names that meant something to us all.

Few will forget the Skocens, Banach, Steckiws, Pawliuks, Harasym of those exciting days. But as time went on, the talent dwindled and these names were replaced by unfamiliar ones like Varga, Nonis, Purdon and Bradley. Although the names changed, the winning habits didn't, and it mattered little that Purdon scored, for the next day the papers reported that Ukrainians won (or, God forbid, lost).

But in all these years we didn't have a Ukrainian All-Star squad. Not the kind that played at picnics and other such fine affairs, but a real All-Star team. Finally it seems that we may have one.

As reported a week ago in this column, Eugene Czyzowych took it upon himself to organize an All-Star team to play in an international match against Scotland's Dundee, a first division side. The news was great, but there were reservations and questions. Can he do it? Does he have the needed backing?

The doubts were dashed this week, however, when the Ukrainian National Association took it upon itself to sponsor the match and hopefully make it a night to remember. There are still many 'kinks' to be worked out, but it is nearly certain that finally a Ukrainian All-Star squad will be involved in an international match.

Czyzowych, who will be the manager of the team as well as the game committee chairman, will have his hands full. He has to select the best possible line-up out of all the talent available. The proposal is to write to each Ukrainian club in hopes of receiving from them good players.

There is little doubt that each club will try and push its own "star." It is hoped that the club officials recognize the committee's difficult position and make the job easier by recommending the best. For, after all, it is not in the interest of Chicago, Philadelphia or New York, but in the interest of us all in the Ukrainian community.

Change in Canada

The National Soccer League and the Eastern Canada Professional Soccer League have merged, according to a report in The Toronto Globe and Mail.

The new league will be a semi-professional outfit consisting of the eight clubs in the National League and the two remaining clubs from the Eastern Canada loop. Toronto Roma and Hamilton Primosa are the only clubs left in the ECPSL, which lost the merger. Toronto Falcons-Italia squad to the newly organized National Professional Soccer League and a Montreal team through bankruptcy.

The NSL clubs are Toronto Ukraina, Sudbury Italia, Windsor Teutonia, Kitchener Kickers, Toronto Hungaria, Toronto Croatia, Hellas and Portuguese.

Play As A Unit

Bill Boychuk, National Soccer League president, said that this season the league will play as a unit but hopes to form two divisions next season with relegation and promotion system similar to that of most other countries.

Boychuk also said that the 10-team loop may be expanded before the season gets underway. He revealed that applications are being considered from other clubs in Toronto as well as those from Rochester, N. Y. and London, manager of the team as well Ont.

Who Else But UNA

The doubts were dashed this week, however, when the Ukrainian National Association took it upon itself to sponsor the match and hopefully make it a night to remember. There are still many 'kinks' to be worked out, but it is nearly certain that finally a Ukrainian All-Star squad will be involved in an international match.
