UCCA Calls Bolshevik Revolution "Unabashed Fraud"

DECLARATION ON 50TH ANNIVERSARY OF RED TAKE-OVER CALLS ON AMERICANS TO SHUN SOVIET FETE

NEW YORK, N.Y. — "We advise the American people to view critically all pronouncements from Moscow on the 50th anniversary of the Bolshevik revolution, especially the claims that it brought freedom and social equity," stated the Ukrainian Congress Committee of America, in a declaration made public November 7, 1967, the 50th anniversary of the Communist takeover in Russia.

Freedom Stifled

The Declaration, titled "Fifty Years of Fraud and Oppression," stressed the fact it was the Ukrainian National Revolution which brought freedom and national independence to Ukraine fifty years ago, and charged that the Russian Bolsheviks stifled the genuine freedom of Ukraine, and introduced the tyranny and dictatorship of the Communist Party.

Rejecting the claims of Moscow as they pertain to the 45-million Ukrainian people in Communist slavery, the Ukrainian Congress Committee of America charged the Soviet government with willful and unbridled oppression of Ukraine, despite the fact that the Kremlin boasts that Ukraine is "free and sovereign" and a charter member of the United Nations.

"Ukrainians categorically reject the Russian Communist 'thesis' regarding their 'liberation' and self-determination. It was not the Russian Bolshevik revolution, but the Ukrainian National Revolution that brought freedom and independence to the Ukrainian people fifty years ago. The Ukrainian National Revolution, in contrast to the Bolshevik takeover, was similar to the American Revolution of 1776: its overall objective was the freedom and independence of the Ukrainian people, just as the American Revolution sought freedom and independence for the 13 American colonies."

Toronto Ukrainians Mark Centennial With Concert

TORONTO, Ont. — The Ukrainian community in this large metropolis marked Canada's centennial with an impressive concert on Sunday, October 29, at Massey Hall.

The concert, sponsored by the local branch of the Ukrainian Canadian Committee, was attended by an audience estimated at 2,500.

Progressive Conservative Leader Robert Stanfield, who was the main speaker, praised the Ukrainian settlers in Canada for their contribution to the cultural and economic growth of the country and acknowledged the great role Ukrainians play at the present time in virtually every area of pursuit.

Mr. Stanfield was introduced by Michael Starr, who was given a standing ovation by the throng.

Mr. Starr was the first Canadian of Ukrainian descent to become a cabinet member in Canada when he was Labor Minister in the

Educators, Students Launch Series of Conferences Today

CONGRESS TO CONCLUDE WITH BANQUET ON SUNDAY, NOV. 19

NEW YORK, N.Y. — New York City, the vibrant metropolis that is justly considered the capital of the world, will add yet another first to its long list of historic events as it becomes the site of the First World Congress of Free Ukrainians convening here for a week-long series of sessions beginning today.

Meeting on the fiftieth anniversary of the Ukrainian National Revolution, the World Congress, representing 3 million Ukrainians and their descendants in the free world, is the first such gathering of Ukrainian Diaspora.

Dignitaries On Hand

Dozens of high-ranking political dignitaries, representatives of the clergy, social, cultural, educational, professional, women's and youth organizations from some twenty countries of the free world will be meeting here in a series of separate conferences prior to the Thursday, November 16, plenary session which will open the World Congress.

Close to 1,000 delegates are expected to take part in the Congress and the preceding sessions.

Launching the series of sessions will be the Ukrainian educators and students, with the latter's congress commencing on Saturday, November 11, at the Ukrainian Institute of America. Among others scheduled to convene in the first half of the week, are Ukrainian women, scholars, war veterans, youth organizations, journalists, and others. The dates and the sites of their conclaves are given in the official program printed on this page.

The World Congress plenary session will be held at the New York Hilton Hotel.

Long years in preparation, the Congress is being called by the Pan-American Ukrainian Conference, a coordinating body of Ukrainian organizations in North and South America.

Seek Freedom for Ukraine

The main objectives of the Congress are to mobilize the liberation forces of Ukrainians scattered throughout the world and channel them into effective action in behalf of the enslaved Ukrainian people, to combine all forces of Ukrainians into a single, cohesive and closely cooperating body, to dramatize the plight of 45 million Ukrainians suffering under the Russo-Communist yoke, to manifest the solidar-

Huge Rally

Climaxing the week-long series of sessions and other events will be the Ukrainian Freedom Rally at Madison Square Garden on Saturday, November 18, from 10:00 a.m. to 2:00 p.m. Leading Ukrainian political figures, notaries, American, Canadian and European guest speakers and representatives from captive nations will participate. In addition, an impressive festival of Ukrainian dance and music will be staged at the arena in the course of the rally, in which thousands are expected to take part.

The Congress will conclude formally on Sunday, November 19, with a banquet at the New York Hilton at 7:00 p.m.

A series of resolutions, condemning Russian enslavement of Ukraine, and an appeal to the United Nations seeking support for the aspirations of the Ukrainian people to freedom, will be issued by the Congress.

It is expected that a Secretariat will be established by the Congress to coordinate the activities of Ukrainians in the free world and to marshal worldwide support for the cause of the Ukrainian people in their native country and other lands behind the Iron Curtain.

Women's World Session Set to Open November 15

Areta Kowal Commended For Research Contribution

NEW YORK, N. Y. — Areta Kowal, a third-year pre-medical student, was among 31 students who made valuable contributions to various research projects conducted by the Cornell Medical Center in New York this past summer. The students, working on a volunteer basis, assisted primarily with research studies and laboratory work in anatomy, microbiology, pathology and anesthesiology, as well as human genetics, social psychiatry, infectious diseases, surgical research and other fields of medicine. Miss Kowal, a former camp counselor and employee at So-yuzivka, assisted in the accumulation of data concerning two genetic disorders, mongolism and Bloom's syndrome. Data concerning 201 mongols from New York and New Jersey were assembled. The second disorder, a rare form of dwarfism with a high expectancy of malignant neoplasia, is recessively inherited and is most common in Jews. According to the Center's Bulletin, Miss Kowal accumulated pedigree data, and was able to prepare a map showing that the ancestors of most patients originated in Ukraine or neighboring areas of Eastern Europe, migrating to the U.S. between 1890 and 1924, or, in a few cases, after World War II. Most of the 27 patients so far recognized have lived in the U.S.; one was found in Mexico, four in Canada, and two in Israel. Miss Kowal used her knowledge of the Ukrainian and Polish languages, her understanding of geographic boundaries and towns, as well as other material found in the city libraries, in her construction of the map. It will be incorporated in a paper by Dr. James L. German, director of the Division and Associate Professor of Anatomy and Pediatrics, which will be published shortly in a genetics journal.

Mark Golden Anniversary

Mr. & Mrs. Daniel Gruchowsky

NEW YORK, N.Y. — Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Gruchowsky celebrated their fiftieth wedding anniversary on Saturday, September 23, with festivities that took place at their residence in the Dyker Heights section of Brooklyn, N.Y. Their two daughters, Anastasia G. Brodin, and Dorothy G. Wylder, gave them a surprise party in honor of the occasion. The couple's son-in-law, John Wylder, and four grandchildren, Michael B. Brodin, completing his last year in medical school, Barbara N. Wylder, college freshman, Gregory C. Brodin and John O. D. Wylder, both in high school, were present to make this a most memorable day for their grandparents. Among the guests were relatives and friends through the many years, who originally came from Velyka Plavucha, near Ternopil, the village where both Barbara, nee Mychailuk and Daniel Gruchowsky were born. Also present were neighbors of the couple. The entire family are members of various UNA branches in the New York and Boston areas.

Rudnytsky Scores Success In Philadelphia Concert

PHILADELPHIA, Pa. — the nostalgic atmosphere of the romantic era at the outset and his middle section was performed with the proper majesty and breadth — a fine example of sustaining power. The finger-twisting traps of Busoni's "All' Italia" were neatly bypassed in a performance of technical dexterity. The opening Mozart "Nine variations on a Minuet by Duport" were offered with contrasts and neat articulation. The pianist's style was particularly commendable. The delicately played Ravel "Sonatine," and Stravinsky's brilliant "Three Scenes from Petrushka" concluded the recital. It was due to Mr. Rudnytsky's talent that the Museum of Art series opened so successfully. The young man has an appreciated lack of mannerisms and a modest, pleasing personality. With time he will add color to his art.

Metro Baran, UOL Leader, Dies in Cranford

CRANFORD, N. J. — The funeral of Metro J. Baran, 48, a well-known leader in Ukrainian circles, was conducted Monday, October 23, from the Dooley Funeral Home. Mr. Baran died suddenly at home Wednesday, October 18. Requiem divine liturgy was offered at St. Demetrius Ukrainian Orthodox Church, Carteret, by Rev. John Hundak, pastor; Very Rev. Peter Melech, a s s i s t a n t pastor; Very Rev. Theodore Forosty of Passaic, vice-president of the diocesan consistory; Very Rev. Stephen Bilak, dean of St. Vladimir's Cathedral, Philadelphia, Pa., spiritual advisor to the Ukrainian Orthodox League, and Rev. Michael Zapanariuk of Trenton. The eulogy was delivered by Stephen Sivulich of Akron, Ohio, national president of the Ukrainian Orthodox League. Interment services were held at Cloverleaf Memorial Park, Woodbridge. Mr. Baran, first vice-president of the Ukrainian Orthodox League of America, suffered a heart attack in July while attending a convention of the league in Pittsburgh and had been in ill health since. Born in New York City, he lived in New Brunswick prior to moving to Cranford four years ago. Mr. Baran was in combat with the Army in the Pacific Theater in World War II and was a member of Pvt. Nicholas Minue Post, American Legion, New York City. He also was chairman of the Junior League Commission of the Ukrainian Orthodox League, a communicant of St. Demetrius Ukrainian Orthodox Church, Carteret, and a member of its Men's Club. He was a long-time UOL delegate to the UCCA. Surviving are his wife, Mrs. Lillian P. Baran; a daughter, Martha M., at home; a son, James M., a student at the Milwaukee School of Engineering, and his mother, Mrs. Katherine Baran of New York City.

Women's World Session ...

(Concluded from p. 1) persons have registered for the Session. From WFUWO, 15 member organizations will be represented. Others represented will be Ukrainian National Women's League of Canada, National Aid Society "Dity — Ditiem," and the Ukrainian Orthodox Sisterhood in the U.S. Delegates will also be arriving from Europe, South America and Australia. According to the Planning Committee of WSUW, the response of women so far has been good, but it could still be better. "We need the support of every Ukrainian woman to make the Session a success," said one member of the committee. The planning committee has announced that it is opening a fund drive to raise the necessary moneys to cover the cost of the Session. Women who cannot possibly attend the activities of November 15, said a spokesman, can show their interest and support by sending a contribution to WFUWO, 4936 North St., Philadelphia, Pa.

The program for the afternoon plenary session consists of three lectures on the following topics: Ukrainian women's movement in retrospect of the 50th year of proclaimed Ukrainian statehood and the 49th anniversary of the equal rights of the Ukrainian women; life of the Ukrainian woman under the Soviet regime; role of the Ukrainian woman in the life of the Ukrainian community in the free world. The banquet is scheduled for 7:00 p.m. Featured will be young Ukrainian talent in the field of music, dance and drama. Painting of Miss Vera Maslowych will be on exhibit.

There are still a few days left to send in the registration fee, which is $2 for the Session and $10 for the banquet. In New York and vicinity the fees should be sent to Mrs. Barbara Bachynsky, 101 East 16 Street, New York, N.Y. Elsewhere, the fees should be sent to UNWLA headquarters in Philadelphia. The World Session of Ukrainian Women begins at 9 a.m. After registration and opening, participants may attend any of eight individual conferences dealing with organization, culture, education, folk art, social care, press and journalism and Soviet studies. Each will feature two or three lectures, one of which, on public relations, will be in English.

Earns Doctorate in Law

YOUNGSTOWN, O. — On October 7, Peter Gulick, attorney-at-law, was awarded the degree of Juris Doctor at an impressive ceremony here. The convocation was held at Ohio Northern University on Saturday afternoon and was attended by many friends, relatives and guests. The main address was given by Nicholas Katzenbach, Under Secretary of State, who emphasized the need for law and order in this era of an increasing crime rate. President Samuel Lewis Meyer, Dr. Eugene N. Hanson, Dean of the College of Law, and Dr. Claude W. Pettit, former Dean of the College of Law, conferred the Juris Doctor degrees. The J.D. degree is a professional degree which properly recognizes the three additional years of study beyond and above the baccalaureate degree. The weekend festivities included a reception in the student union, a buffet supper sponsored by the Delta Theta Phi law fraternity and the appearance of the Cincinnati Symphony on Sunday afternoon. Dr. Gulick attended Youngstown State University, Ohio State University and received his law degree from Ohio Northern University. He has been practicing law in Youngstown since 1947. The family are members of UNA Branch 230.

Wilkes-Barre UNA Branches Mark Anniversary of Revolution

WILKES-BARRE, Pa. — More than 300 persons gathered in the blue-and-gold decorated ballroom of the Hotel Sterling here to mark the 50th anniversary of the Ukrainian National Revolution with a banquet. The affair, held Saturday, November 4, was sponsored by the Wyoming Valley branches of the Ukrainian National Association. The Hon. Daniel J. Flood, U.S. Congressman from Pennsylvania's 11th District and a long-time friend of the Ukrainian people, was the main speaker. Also addressing the gathering was John Kokolski, UNA Supreme Treasurer. Both speakers recalled the memorable events of the revolution that resulted in the establishment of the Ukrainian National Republic and unification of all Ukrainian lands under one sovereign flag. They spoke of the Ukrainian people's valiant struggle against the onslaught of Russo-Communist invaders from the north, and subsequent occupation of Ukraine by the Bolsheviks. In contrast to the reactionary Bolshevik revolution that brought slavery to millions of peoples held in Russo-Communist captivity until this day, the speakers drew parallels between the Ukrainian and the American revolutions as expressing the true desire of the people to live in freedom under just laws. Congressman Flood spoke also of his efforts to establish a permanent House Committee on Captive Nations. He is the author of the resolution submitted to that effect. The banquet, described as one of the most successful events staged here in recent years, was opened by the Rev. Nicholas Fisanick, who offering prayer was delivered by the Rev. Walter J. Wysochanski. Harry Mahally was chairman of the event, and Wasy Stefury acted as master of ceremonies. Assisting with arrangements were Olga Malischak, Katherine Lukacz, Mildred Dobranski, Nicholas Wolensky, Donald Tomko, Eugenia Waslasky, Rose Wolensky, Dimitrius Ostapiw, Lucy Slipetz Tomko, John Blischak, Mary Bolosky, Gisela Stefury, Ann Blischak, Stanley Waslasky, Helen Hollock, Stephanie Iwaniv and Mary Boris.

Who is Who in ASL?

Someone ought to tell the Newark Ukrainian Soccer club that it was not their team at the receiving end of a 6-1 shellacking on October 1 from the Philadelphia Ukrainian Nationals. According to some reports it was the Philadelphia Spartans.

Not only could Sitch recoup some of the lost prestige, but they also could demand from the American Soccer League a change in the standings. All they have to do is inform the misguided ASL officials that there was a mistake made — that they were not in Philadelphia on that gloomy October 1.

A Mixup

How did the mixup occur? Was everybody under the influence of spirits or some other such potent stuff? How could everybody make such a great mistake, including a good portion of the press, in reporting that it was the Sitch that the Nats defeated so handily when in reality it was the hated Spartans.

The mixup came to light in an article by Alex Yaremko in the October 11 issue of the Tele-Sport, a weekly newspaper devoted to the sport of soccer and published in Toronto, Canada. Under the headline "Uke Nats Wallop Spartans," Mr. Yaremko reports that the debate on who is a better club, the Nats or the Spartans, was settled on that day when the Nationals "came through with a convincing 6 to 1 victory over the Spartan-packed Newark Sitch eleven."

Test of Strength

In the article Mr. Yaremko reveals that fans "were beginning to wonder" whether the Philadelphia Ukrainian Nationals were on par with this new entry (Spartans) and whether their reputation (the Nats) as "America's No. 1 soccer team is to be considered seriously."

A Spartans-Nationals game would have settled the matter, says Yaremko, adding, however, that such a match was impossible because the Spartans are members of an "out-law league." And so the next best thing was a match against Sitch who were "loaded with highly-publicized 'major pro-loop' soccer players."

Atlanta or Washington

Last Sunday the Atlanta Chiefs regained some of the prestige for the National Professional Soccer League lost by the Spartans, when they defeated the Nats, 2-0, in Philadelphia in an American Soccer League match.

If you are confused, don't be. It seems that the Chiefs played under the assumed name of Washington Britannica. But this "deception," we are sure, will be discovered sooner or later. Meanwhile, according to Mr. Yaremko, the Nats are apparently the only squad in organized soccer that is playing games with the "outlawed" National Professional Soccer League and receiving credit for it.

Gloom in Newark

In Newark, meanwhile, things are not too rosy. The Newark Ukrainian Sitch came off the field last Sunday with a 1-1 tie against the Baltimore Flyers but observers pointed out that it was a lucky break for the Ukrainian team.

Besides facing a relegation at the end of the season, Sitch, as well as most other Ukrainian clubs, is facing a huge deficit at the gate. Last Sunday's match drew an estimated 200 spectators to the field.

USC Showing Spark

New York Ukrainian Sport Club is showing some spark after a dismal start. Last Sunday USC defeated last year's contender for the German-American Soccer League championship, New York Hota, 2-1, on Hota's home grounds in Franklin Square, L. I.

The Ukrainian team scored the first goal when Gordon Bradley found the net at the 38th minute mark. Hota tied the match at 1-1 in the second stanza but David Demain, once a star with USC and now back with the team, scored at the 78th minute to give his team the victory.
