Anti-Religious Drive in Ukraine Grows in Intensity

ARRESTS, BEATINGS OF CATHOLIC PRIESTS, FAITHFUL CITED

BAITMORE, Md. — The anti-religious drive, directed particularly against the Ukrainian Catholic Church and its priests who have refused to embrace Moscow's Orthodoxy, is being intensified in Ukraine, according to the clandestinely published "Ukrainian Herald."

At the same time, Soviet authorities are said to be destroying Ukrainian churches and religious monuments.

New facts and instances of this anti-religious drive are contained in the "Herald" which is being prepared for publication here by the Smolensk Ukrainian Information Service.

Dotsenko Case: Reds Recall Three Students From Uof T

TORONTO, Ont. — The Soviet embassy in Ottawa gave three Soviet post-graduate students at the University of Toronto until Sunday, January 10, to report to the embassy in Ottawa, according to reports in the Toronto dailies.

From there they were sent home to Moscow on Tuesday, January 12.

The three were at U of T as part of the exchange program with the university, which was summarily cancelled two weeks ago because the university refused to get rid of Dr. Boris Dotsenko, a Soviet Ukrainian nuclear physicist who sought asylum in Canada.

Dr. Dotsenko is now a landed immigrant and is doing research at the university as a visiting scientist.

The university has released a statement by Prof. Gordon Skilling, head of the university's exchange program.

"The unilateral action of the Soviet Ministry of Higher Education is very disappointing," the statement said.

A. E. Ritchie, Canada's undersecretary of state for external affairs, expressed official Government concern to the Soviet ambassador, Boris Miroshnichenko.

It is understood that while there was concern about the future of other cultural and scientific exchanges with the Soviet Union, the Government was not at all pleased that the Soviets might be attempting to exert pressure on Canadian institutions.

The three Soviets are Vitaly Makarov, doing work in bio-medical electronics; Anatoli Sheherbakov, in Forestry; and Yuri Volkov in Physics.

The Canadian students in Moscow are Jennifer Maher, Gordon Smith and Marvin Wisinski.

We, Too, Had Carolers

A pair of youngsters, their faces conveying the festive mood of the day, dropped in unexpectedly last Tuesday, January 19 (the Feast of Epiphany according to the Julian calendar) on the Svoboda offices and rendered a whole series of Ukrainian carols to the stunned silence of the editors who are not accustomed to such emotion-filled situations. The ticking of the typewriters stopped, and, somehow, the hands reached up to the open shirt-collars to straighten out the ties. For a moment there was tranquility and only the clear sound of a child's koldada. As it turned out, the youngsters, shown above, are 4-year-old Orest (left) and 6-year-old Areta Harasymchuk, children of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Harasymchuk of Jersey City.

APPEAL OF THE SUPREME EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE OF THE UKRAINIAN NATIONAL ASSOCIATION

UNA Members!

The close of 1970 witnessed the passing of yet another year — the 76th — in the history of the Ukrainian National Association, one in which we worked under the slogan "IN TRIBUTE TO PIONEERS — WITH EYES TOWARD YOUTH." A cursory review of our accomplishments in that year should suffice to tell us whether our great Soyuz family remained true to its tradition of continued growth and development and whether the UNA lived up to its principal aim and responsibility of serving its members, the Ukrainian community and the Ukrainian people at large.

In 1970, a total of 5,252 Ukrainians living in the United States and Canada took advantage of UNA's excellent, low-premium life insurance plans and protected themselves and their families for a total in excess of 10 million dollars thus joining the family of 89,000 UNA'ers holding membership certificates for a total of 127 million dollars of life insurance.

At the same time, the UNA paid out a total of $1,749,000 to its members for matured, and cashed certificates and $643,131 to widows, orphans and other beneficiaries of the deceased members. Soyuz also paid out a total of $399,522 in dividends to its policy holders, granted $125,000 in loans to the members and over $430,000 in financial aid to members. This adds up to a combined total of $2,950,000 paid out by the UNA last year to its members and for its members, not to mention the thousands of dollars advanced to members and organizations in mortgage loans and other financial assistance.

In 1970, the UNA continued to improve its services placing them on a higher professional level in the recording, financial and organizing departments.

UNA's publishing department, in addition to continuing with the publication of the Ukrainian daily Svoboda, the English language Ukrainian Weekly and the children's illustrated monthly Veselka, submitted all required material for the second volume of "Ukraine: A Concise Encyclopaedia," a project which cost in excess of a quarter of a million dollars, financed the reprinting of an additional 2,500 copies of the first volume of the encyclopedia, as well as the much demanded "History of Ukraine" by Michael Hrushevsky.

Soyuzivka, UNA's resort in the Catskills, enjoyed increasing popularity as a center of youth activity, attracting children and young people of all ages to the summer camps and the Ukrainian Cultural Courses, as well as other cultural, educational and athletic programs.

In 1970, the UNA joined the national campaign against the spread of narcotics and drug addiction by publishing a special brochure, prepared by Dr. Michael Danylyuk, in both English and Ukrainian and carrying a series of crusading articles in its periodicals on the dangers of drug addiction. By publishing Dr. Danylyuk's Medical Guidebook, the UNA showed concern for the most treasured asset of its members and of all Ukrainians — their health.

The most important accomplishment of the UNA in 1970 and one of far-reaching significance for its future was the start of construction of the 15-story skyscraper in Jersey City, which will be the pride of every Ukrainian and a tangible landmark of our identity.

In 1970 the UNA played a vital role in such actions of national scope as the UUAARC-sponsored relief effort for the Ukrainian earthquake victims in Banja Luka, Yugoslavia, the fund-raising drive for the expansion of the Ukrainian Studies Program at Harvard University, the diverse projects and programs conducted under the auspices of the World Congress of Free Ukrainians, the Ukrainian Congress Committee of America, the Ukrainian Canadian Committee, and various scholarly and educational societies. The UNA continued its active support of the efforts to establish a Ukrainian Catholic Patriarchate.

In line with its motto "With Eyes Toward Youth," the UNA supported actively the various programs and activities of our youth organizations. It was this motto that served as the theme of UNA's 27th regular convention last year.

This, in capsule form, is the review of UNA's work and accomplishments in 1970. We would not have made these strides were it not for our organized strength and economic power, and, above all, the dedication and enthusiasm of UNA's organizers, branch secretaries, officers and local activists. They deserve our tribute and our gratitude.

We have enumerated some of the more important highlights of our progress in 1970. But the list of our objectives yet to be attained is equally long. So much more could be done if we could attain the prime objective of UNA's pioneer-founders: to organize within our ranks all of the Ukrainians in the United States and Canada regardless of their place of birth, religious faith or political persuasion.

For 76 years the UNA has been striving toward this goal which is in the best interest of every member, every family, and our entire community. Yet despite these efforts and the obvious benefits that membership in the UNA offers, not even ten percent of Ukrainians on the North American continent have been organized into the UNA system.

Therefore, on the threshold of a new year, we are announcing a new membership drive designed to bring at least SIX THOUSAND new members into the UNA fold in 1971.

We call on all our organizers, branch secretaries and officers, convention delegates, Soyuz activists, and all who value the well-being of our community and our people to do their utmost in this year's membership campaign. Every new member of the UNA means vital financial protection and security for yet another Ukrainian family. It means an addition to our assets and resources, expansion of our activities, strengthening of our capacity for progress and service to the community. It means more Ukrainian power!

This year the UNA will continue its membership drive under the slogan "In Tribute to Pioneers — With Eyes Toward Youth." The best tribute to our parents is that their children continue to preserve and enrich the spiritual heritage and the material security passed on to them.

In establishing our Soyuz 76 years ago, our pioneers thought of the well-being of their children and their children's children. This is also our concern today. The inclusion of our youth in the ranks of the UNA is the best guarantee of our continued progress and development in the New World.

Ukrainians! The Ukrainian National Association is our veritable fortress beyond the sea. It offers protection to each and every one of you, and in doing so it assures our community of a better and brighter future. Membership in the UNA is a responsibility that all of us bear toward our families and our Ukrainian community.

Students Protest Imprisonment of Moroz

NEW YORK, N.Y. — A Ukrainian Students (C-SUS), the Federation of Ukrainian Student Organizations of America (SUSTA), and the national board of the Ukrainian Student Organization of Michnowsky (TUSM) have issued separate appeals calling on the students to stage demonstrations beginning Friday, January 22—the day of the independence anniversary—to protest the incarceration of Valentyn Moroz, 34-year-old historian, who was sentenced last November to nine years of hard labor by the Soviet court in Ivano-Frankivske. V. Moroz, who was accused of "anti-Soviet propaganda and agitation", was arrested for the first time in 1965 and released in 1969 after serving a four-year sentence.

The demonstrations, which were to have started by SUSTA and TUSM yesterday in New York, are scheduled to continue through January 31st.

PROCLAMATIONS STATEMENTS IN CONGRESS TO HIGHLIGHT OBSERVANCES

COMMEMORATIVE PROGRAMS PLANNED

JERSEY CITY, N.J. — Thousands of Ukrainians in this and other countries of the free world will hold commemorative observances this weekend marking the 53rd anniversary of Ukraine's independence and the unification of all Ukrainian lands, which followed a year later to the day.

As in previous years, delegations of Ukrainian community leaders in this country called on state governors and city mayors in the course of this past week to witness the signing of special proclamations designating January 22nd as "Ukrainian Independence Day."

It was in Kiev, the capital of Ukraine, that the Central Rada proclaimed Ukraine to be an independent Republic. The act, known as the Fourth Universal, was read at St. Sophia Square on January 22, 1918.

Ukrainians throughout the free world observe this date with great solemnity as a manifestation of the Ukrainian people's desire to be free once again.

Flags Raised

In deference of the just aspirations of the Ukrainian people for a status of independence, the American officials issue proclamations affirming the Ukrainian people's right to freedom. Yesterday, Ukrainian blue-and-gold flags were hoisted atop state capitols and city halls alongside the American stars and stripes.

Scores of U.S. Senators and members of the House will take floor for special statements on the occasion of the Ukrainian independence anniversary.

A prayer in the House will be offered on Thursday, January 28, by Bishop Mark the Ukrainian Orthodox Church in the USA.

Commemorative rallies, concerts and special programs are planned for this and the following weekends in Ukrainian communities. It is expected that special accent will be placed on the recent wave of persecution in Ukraine, directed by Moscow against Ukrainian intellectuals who have been protesting against repression and the Kremlin-sanctioned policy of Russification.

According to a communique of the UCCA, the following communities have made arrangements for the independence anniversary programs:

- New York City, Sunday, Jan. 24, commemorative concert at the Fashion Institute, at 4 p.m. Principal speaker — Prof. Konstantyn Sawchuk of St. Peter's College in Jersey City, N.J.
- Philadelphia, Sunday, January 31, commemorative program at the Benjamin Franklin High School, Broad and Green sts., at 5 p.m. Principal speaker — Dr. Michael Kushnir.
