OBJECT TO METHOD OF BISHOP STOCK'S NOMINATION

FEEL ARCHBISHOP-MAJOR'S RIGHT BYPASSED

JERSEY CITY, N.J. — A 13-member delegation, which called on the UNA Executive Committee and the Svoboda Press Friday, February 26, voiced its objections to the manner in which the Holy See nominated Magr. John Stock as Auxiliary Bishop to Archbishop Ambrose Senyshyn, Metropolitan of the Ukrainian Catholics in the U.S.

Regard For Bishop

While declaring unequivocally their "respect and regard" for the appointed Bishop, the representatives of the four organizations comprising the delegation said they were objecting to the bypassing of

Dr. Dobriansky Publishes "U.S.A. and the Soviet Myth"

NEW YORK, N.Y. — An incisive, 274-page study on the prevalence of what the author calls "myths" about the nature and political objectives of the USSR, was published last month by Dr. Lev E. Dobriansky, professor of economics at Georgetown University and President of the Ukrainian Congress Committee of America.

False Notions Exposed

The notion of what is commonly called in the U.S. the "Russian people," the false assumption that the USSR is a homogeneous nation, the rather misleading idea that it is communism which is the sole enemy of freedom and democracy — these are some of the "myths" analyzed and exposed by Dr. Dobriansky in his most recent book.

Bibliography

A selected list of recent works relating to the subjects discussed by Dr. Dobriansky is compiled in seven pages of print, and a six-page index is appended at the end. The book, priced at $6.50, can be obtained at Ukrainian bookstores, at Svoboda, and at the UCCA headquarters in New York.

Ukrainians to Take Part in St. Peter's College Centennial

JERSEY CITY, N.J. — St. Peter's College, a Catholic university here with an enrollment of some 5,000 students, is readying for a year-round observance of its centennial in 1972.

Council Meets

Some 100 leaders, representing every phase of community life here, comprise the Centennial Council which is supervising the planning of next year's observances. Included in the select group is UNA Supreme President Joseph Lesawyer, who took part in the Council's initial meeting here last Monday March 1st.

To Offer Courses

Among hundreds of the school's graduates are many Ukrainians. This summer, courses in Ukrainian history will be offered at St. Peter's by Prof. Konstantyn Sawczuk, a member of the Department of History.

Flis is Re-elected to Head N.Y.'s UNA Committee

NEW YORK, N.Y. (MD) — What began as a placid, fast-moving session of the annual meeting of UNA's New York District Committee suddenly became vivified, but reverted to a serene note, with chairman John Flis re-elected to his ninth consecutive term.

The meeting, held at Dnister Hall here on February 19, with 23 of the 37 District branches represented, was opened by chairman Flis. Following the reading of the agenda by secretary Mykoia Chomanczuk, Bohdan Lastowewy proposed that a presidium be elected consisting of Dr. Wasyl Palidwor, chairman; Roman Olesnicki, vice-chairman, and Dr. Alexander Sokolyszyn, secretary, with Mr. Ivan Halychyn as honorary chairman. The list was accepted unanimously.

Reports

Instead of reading the lengthy minutes of the previous annual meeting, a committee of three — Mrs. M. Demydchuk and Messrs. E. Manacky and W. Levenetz — was chosen to review the minutes and report on it.

Officers

The nominating committee, consisting of Messrs. S. Chuma, Lastowewy and Saldan, then submitted a slate of officers for 1971 and the following were elected unanimously: chairman, John Flis; vice-chairmen, Dr. Wasyl Wyshywny and Maria Demydchuk; secretary, Mykoia Chomanczuk; treasurer, Michael Saldan; organizational committee: Ivan Pryhoda, Wasyl (Continued on p. 3)

Joint Protest Bridges Gap

RICHMOND, Va. — The generation gap was closed Monday, February 15, when approximately 15 middle-aged Ukrainians and 85 Jewish students joined forces at the Mosque here to protest Soviet injustices and cultural and political persecution in the USSR.

Common Concern

Although the two groups were protesting different Soviet actions, their coincidental "coalition" had as its basic concern the violation of human rights in the Soviet Union.

The students donned bur-lap sacks and arm-bands with the Star of David and carried signs with slogans such as "Never Again" and "Let My People Go." "Exodus" and "We Shall Overcome" were

Plast Member

An active member of Plast since childhood and proficient in both studies and sports, Orest was liked and respected by his young friends who turned out en masse for the funeral services here Friday, February 26.

While in Milwaukee, he belonged to the school's Tau Iota Epsilon Fraternity and continued his participation in the Ukrainian community's youth life. Some of his student-colleagues from Milwaukee flew in to say the last farewell at the funeral services.

Orthodox Parish Looks to Future

NEWARK, N.J. — One of the oldest Ukrainian Orthodox parishes in the United States, the Ukrainian Orthodox Church of Holy Ascension, was organized October 1918 in Newark, N.J. It has been at 576 South 19th Street since 1938, but the parish property was sold in December of 1970.

First Diocese

The Newark Church building was dedicated on May 30, 1938, by Metropolitan John Theodorovich, Primate of the Ukrainian Orthodox Church, and by pastor emeritus, Protopresbyter Rev. Dr. Vladimir Klodnycky, with the Governor of the State of New Jersey, A. Harry Moore, attending.

Services

Solemn requiem services were celebrated by the Rev. W. Bilynsky and Rev. O. Pajkosh; responses were sung by the church choir under the direction of Mr. Yadlovsky. Among the pallbearers were Orest's five uncles — all brothers Herlinsky, including Victor Herlinsky, noted Ukrainian tennis champion.

Photography: A Budding Art That Knows No Gaps

Photography, once a rather luxurious hobby limited to the very few who had the leisure and the money to afford it, has been turned by modern technology into everybody's preoccupation...

Market Flooded

Catering to this wholesale proliferation of photography, the industry has flooded the market with cameras, films, lenses and what not to suit the taste and the ability of virtually every layman.

The spawning growth, however, has not been achieved at the expense of quality. Photography has become a science, a profession, an art, while gaining ground as a hobby...

This is quite apparent in the Ukrainian community. As a hobby, photography is practiced in every household. As a profession, it thrives in centers of Ukrainian life.

Last November, the Ukrainian Literary-Arts Club in New York was the site of a photo exhibit, sponsored by the revived Ukrainian Photographic Society...

It was dedicated to the memory of the late Sofron Fediw, himself an enthusiast of photography. Mr. Fediw, a man with an inventive and imaginative mind...

Time Ripe

"We saw that the time was ripe to renew the activity of our society," said its current president Bohdan Zahaykevych...

Visitors view New York exhibit.

president Bohdan Zahaykevych of Newark, N.J., another avid enthusiast of the art of photography.

Mr. Zahaykevych notes that the exhibit staged earlier in the year by the New York Ukrainian Student Hromada showed that there was both interest and a great need to expand the activity of "U-Foto," as the Society is known among its rank and file.

The New York exhibit — appropriately opened by Mrs. Fediw — was repeated in Newark on January 17th of this year.

"It went over well," says Mr. Zahaykevych. Without mentioning it, it was he and his photographic comrades-in-arms, Leo Kolensky and Bohdan Polansky, all engineers by profession...

In Philly

Now they are taking the show on the road. The exhibit will be shown in Philadelphia March 12-14 at the local Plast Home.

"After all, Philadelphia is the home of Mr. E. Chaikivsky, our 80-year-old dean and former president of the Society in Lviv. We hope to have him at the exhibit," said Mr. Zahaykevych.

A three-member panel of judges had selected the following photos at the New York exhibit last year: O. Pezansky for his "Three Hands," first, and L. Maystrenko for "Conversation."

second in black-and-white, R. Zahajkevych for "In the Fog of Midnight," first, and L. Maystrenko, second, for "J. Hnizdovsky — A Portrait" in color; the best in slides went to B. Gerulak for "Village," with O. Starostiak's "The Colors of Rain II" judged second best.

In Philadelphia, the viewers will be able to vote on the photos. The exhibit opens Friday, March 12, at 8 p.m. The Society plans more exhibits this year, first in the east and eventually in other centers of Ukrainian life.

More Courage

"We know that the interest is here — among young and old alike. What's lacking perhaps is courage on the part of amateur photographers to submit their photos for exhibits. We try to instill that courage," said Mr. Zahaykevych.

He and his group have an ace in the hole: they are involved in something that knows no gaps.

NYC Student Hromada to Hold 4th New Directions Conference

NEW YORK, N.Y. — The NYC Ukrainian Student Hromada has announced that it will hold its fourth annual New Directions Conference on March 20-21, at the Ukrainian Institute of America, 2 East 79th Street, here.

Cosmopolitan Outlook

Since its inauguration three years ago, the New Directions Conference has acquired a reputation for being one of the liveliest, intriguing, and very often controversial student functions in New York. Perennially, it attracts many students from almost every major Ukrainian center on the Eastern seaboard...

"This conference helps to fight mental atrophy," says president of the NYC Student Hromada, Oleh Hlyntzkyj. "Throughout the year we, the students, tend to boil in our own local sauces, often forgetting about the thoughts of our counterparts in other cities. This conference has for the last few years bred a more cosmopolitan outlook among students. Not only does it give us a feeling for what is happening elsewhere but ultimately it also allows for a better interpretation of our common problems."

The theme for this year's conference is "The Ukrainian KERHONKSON, N.Y. — A group of Kerhonkson, N.Y., area youths and adults, taking the cue from Soyuzivka co-manager Walter Kwas, toured the Renaissance Project, a rehabilitation center for drug addicts in Ulster Heights, and held a no-holds-barred discussion with both the residents and personnel.

answered all questions frankly and honestly. Lions president Abe Black, commenting on his visit, said that he felt "an honest answer to any question by former drug addicts could help some of our young people from taking the drug route."

Clothing Campaign

Mr. Black said that the consensus of opinion of the Renaissance residents in the adult discussion group was that the psychological hold of drugs was greater than physical addiction, and made necessary formation of a new mode of life and a different attitude toward themselves.

Mr. Kwas is organizing a clothing collection campaign to help the Renaissance Project.

Acquaint With Effects

Mr. Kwas originated the idea to acquaint area youth with the results and effects of drug addiction. Contacts with youngsters in his capacity as Soyuzivka co-manager led Mr. Kwas to believe that warnings and information from their peers would do more good than lectures from parents, teachers or psychologists.

After a tour of the Renaissance Project facilities, the group held informal discussions with Renaissance residents, with adults in one group and youth in another. Renaissance personnel answered

UKRAINIAN LITERATURE IS TOPIC FOR ALUMNAE

WINNIPEG, Man. — At their monthly meeting at the University Women's Club on January 26, Alpha Omega Women's Alumnae, a group of university graduates of Ukrainian descent in Winnipeg heard a lecture on "Maid Trends in Contemporary Ukrainian Literature" delivered by Prof. Jaroslav Rozumnyj, assistant professor of Ukrainian literature at the University of Manitoba.

In his talk, Prof. Rozumnyj presented a brief outline of modernism in Ukrainian literature and then analyzed the works of four main trend-setters in contemporary Ukrainian literature: Emma Andrievska and Yuriy Tarnavsky of the "New York Group" and Ivan Drach and Vasyl Holoborodko of the "Writers of the Sixties" in Ukraine.

In the discussion that followed, interest generated by the lecture gave rise to requests for readings of the writers' works by the guest speaker, who obliged and thus rounded out the evening.

in 1938 under his leadership, a rectory and a religious and cultural instruction building were acquired along with a church garden and a parking lot.

For many years the parish was active in civic affairs and hosted many high American and Ukrainian government officials. Father Klodnycky retired from his pastoral duties in 1962.

New Site

In June 1967, with the financial assistance of the Ukrainian National Association, the parish purchased property on Irvington Avenue in Maplewood, N.J., for the site of a new church.

Final church services were held at the old church on December 27, 1970, followed by a highly successful fundraising dinner that was prepared by the Sisterhood of the Church in the parish hall.

Divine Liturgy is conducted every Sunday at 9:30 A.M. at the Adventist Church, Norman Road at Irvington Avenue (1/2 block from the future church site) by Rev. Dr. Simon Hayuk with church choir responses under the direction of Mr. Peter Szkwarako.

Altar care is assumed by the Sisterhood of Holy Pokrova (Protectress) with Mrs. Antonina Yurow, president.

The parish board of trustees is headed by Joseph Worobetz who is serving his fifth year as president. The parish building committee, headed by John Hladun and co-chairman George Chranewycz, is finalizing building plans for the new church.

The rectory and a chapel where divine services will be conducted is located at 650 Irvington Avenue in Maplewood.

Newly re-elected chairman Flis called for a discussion on the dues contributions to the District Committee, and a motion was made and carried that each branch pay a minimum of $5.00 annually, with those which were entitled to one convention delegate paying $5.00, those with two delegates $10.00, and those with three or more delegates $15.00.

A plan to honor the memory of the late Dmytro Halychyn, UNA president for many years, was outlined by Dr. Wyshywny, with a program to be held in New York City on March 27, the 10th anniversary of Mr. Halychyn's death. A memorial service will be said in St. George's Ukrainian Catholic Church and, at the suggestion of Paul Marko, at the All-Saints Ukrainian Orthodox Church. Dr. Olesnicki proposed that Ivan Halychyn, brother of Dmytro Halychyn, serve as a member of the honorary committee for the commemoration program, which would be held under the patronage of UNA's New York District Committee.

Top Organizers

Mr. Flis then called on UNA Vice-President Walter Sochan for a few words. Mr. Sochan explained that other UNA officers were unable to attend, as President Joseph Lesawyer and Treasurer Peter Pucilo were attending the UCCA meeting, and Secretary Dr. Jaroslav Padoch was on vacation. The speaker greeted all and exhorted them to guard against excessive losses of newly organized members.

UNA Vice-President Mary Dushnyck reminded all about the UNA scholarships, for which student applications are now being accepted, and the UNA Bowling Tournament to be held May 8 at Soyuzivka. She said UNA women are proud of their three top women organizers for 1970 — Kvitka Steciuk, with 50 new members, Luba Basko, with 37, and Anna Hnatuk, with 34.

UNA honorary member Maria Demydchuk also greeted the meeting. Due to another commitment, New York field organizer Wasyl Orychowsky, who was present at the meeting earlier, was forced to leave.

"Dnister" Leads

In the absence of Dr. Padoch, Mr. Chomanczuk read a letter from the UNA Secretary regarding the organizational status of the New York District Committee which is in second place among UNA districts. Its "Dnister" Branch 361 with 102 new members retained its first place among all UNA branches for the second year.

The leading organizers of the New York District and UNA Chamion Club members for 1970 were: M. Chomanczuk (Br. 5) with 51 members; Br. 361 — Dr. Wyshywny, 37; R. Krupka, 33; and I. Pryhoda, 30; Dr. Palidwor (Br. 204) 28; B. Lastowewy (Br. 184) 26; and Dr. Alexander Sanatsky (Br. 158) 25. Ten UNA Builders in the District brought in between 10 and 24 members.

The evening ended with the usual super buffet prepared by Mr. and Mrs. Pryhoda.
