The Dearest of All

May is a month of many things, but first and foremost it is a month that has reserved its second Sunday for a most deserving tribute to Mother. Shared universally by virtually all peoples, this day has a special place in our cultural heritage, reflecting the deep sense of reverence for the woman and for mother in particular.

Time For Recruitment

For our young people this is the time of examinations and scurrying around to finish term papers that probably should have been done earlier when the weather was less pleasant. For some youngsters this is graduation time and for those of college age — the time to don the cap and gown for the long-awaited commencement exercises.

It is too often taken for granted that our young people are thoroughly familiar with the structure and the mechanics of our organized life. To be sure, many are acquainted with the facts of community life, yet even they may be reluctant to join the existing societies for one or another reason.

Ukraine's Law-Abiding Dissidents

(The article below, written by Abraham Bromberg, appeared in the March 13th issue of the Manchester Guardian, London, England.) True, some of them have also either alluded to, or openly come out in favor of separate Ukrainian statehood — but again, basing themselves on the Soviet Constitution, article 17 of which guarantees the right of secession to all republics of the USSR.

UKRAINIAN REPUBLICANS TO MEET IN FIRST CONVENTION

A new dimension in politics will be initiated June 3rd and 4th, 1972, when the Ukrainian American Republican Club of Central New York sponsors the first Ukrainian ethnic political convention at the Hotel Syracuse, in Syracuse, N.Y.

Attending will be delegates from all over the state, including Albany, Buffalo, Binghamton, Utica, Cortland, New York City, Troy, Kerhonkson, Oswego and Phoenix. More delegates are also expected to come from other areas in New York, as well as guests from other parts of the country.

The two-day affair, according to the club president Lew Sosnowich, will feature representatives of the Nixon administration, the Republican National Committee, and state and local political figures. Professional entertainment will be provided at the banquet, accompanied by local Ukrainian talent.

Much Needed Forum

Mr. Sosnowich said the convention is being designed to give the Ukrainian American a much needed forum to participate in local, state and national politics. He said that the delegates will be divided into several committees including finance, education, policy-making, domestic and foreign affairs.

building in Jersey City. Mr. Hawrysz, in discussing organization, said that while some Branches were successful in gaining new members, others were wholly inactive. He said that the quota of new members for both Districts is 40 in the current spring drive, but that so far only 18 have been organized.

The Righteous Folly

Andrew M. Chirovsky The blind idealist once said, "A thought has come into my head; If one should work to shift all grains of sand, A fantastic change would surely meet the land."

and their activities have grown correspondingly. Perhaps their most notable achievement is the samizdat journal, the Ukrainian Herald, five issues of which have appeared so far. In many respects similar to the Chronicle of Current Events, the Herald has also published many literary works by Ukrainian writers and poets.

Stage Demonstrations...

(Continued from p. 1) cluding remarks and called on those present to attend the manifestation and demonstration scheduled for Saturday, May 13, 1972, in Washington, D.C.

Then in orderly fashion all participants formed marching columns and went to Independence Hall, carrying posters and signs denouncing Soviet Russian oppression of the Ukrainian people. A delegation consisting of Melames L. Burachynska, O. Gengalo, N. Pazuniak, S. Bernadyn and E. Blawacka, laid a bouquet of flowers at the base of the Liberty Bell.

Youth Invited

The Ukrainian Americans are becoming more fully aware of the need to participate in local, state and national government. They are realizing that the best way to publicize their rich ethnic background and to preserve a government responsive to people's needs is through the ballot box.

Congressman Daniels Seeks Re-election From 14th District

JERSEY CITY, N.J. — Congressman Dominick V. Daniels (D-N.J.) cited his record, seniority and personal attention to his constituents' problems as the main trump cards in his bid for an eighth term as Representative in the U.S. Congress from New Jersey's 14th District.

Well-Attended

Representing the Svoboda Press at the well attended conference were Zenon Snylyk, Editor of The Ukrainian Weekly, and UNA scholarship winner in journalism and editorial assistant, George Wirt.

Names Manager

At a press conference at the Casino in the Park here Friday, May 5, attended by reporters and representatives of the ethnic press, Cong. Daniels announced that former Jersey City Mayor Charles Krieger would be his campaign manager up to the June 6th primary.

Have You Brought Your Friend or Relative to the Ukrainian National Association? If Not, Do So as Soon as Possible!

Five years ago, the eloquent pleas of the Ukrainian intellectuals for national and basic human freedoms found little echo among the intellectuals in Russia. Within the past two years, however, the Chronicle of Current Events has evinced increasing interest in, and sympathy for, the aspirations of the Ukrainian dissidents.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Council of Churches Asked to Intercede

(The letters below represent an exchange between Askold Skalsky and the World Council of Churches concerning persecution and repressions in Ukraine.)

World Council of Churches, 475 Riverside Drive, New York, New York 10027 Gentlemen:

On February 14, news dispatches carried the information that the executive committee of the World Council of Churches had called for more effective economic and political sanctions against the white minority government in Rhodesia.

There are obvious parallels between the situation in Rhodesia and Ukraine. As in Rhodesia, there is a minority government, under the directives of Moscow, and not representing the will of the Ukrainian people.

As in Rhodesia, there have been arrests and detentions without trial. Thousands of Ukrainian political prisoners languish in Soviet prisons and labor camps.

Involved in the preparation of the rally-demonstration were predominantly young people: Ostap Kwitkowsky, B. Potapenko, Vira Andrushkiw, Maria Zarycka and Victor Borowsky.

Dear Mr. Skalsky...

This is to acknowledge your letter of February 16. We have, of course, been conscious of the concerns of Ukrainian emigres about what is happening in the Soviet Union. I am turning your letter over to my colleagues with the assurance that the World Council acts sometimes publicly and sometimes privately to the ends of religious and civil liberty in all parts of the world.

"Zaporozhets" Comes to Binghamton For First Time

BINGHAMTON, N. Y. — "Kozak Beyond the Danube," the popular Ukrainian opera, will be seen for the first time in Binghamton, N.Y., on Sunday, May 21, at 3 p.m.

Stage Exhibit At Hunter College

NEW YORK, N.Y. (GW) — "We want to show the students and the faculty of this school that we're proud of being Ukrainian and we're not afraid of showing people our culture," said Dmytro Mulyk, president of the Hunter College Ukrainian Club.

The exhibit was opened at the beginning of the spring semester through the efforts of club members Elizabeth Sydor-Czartoryjsky, Christine Hryckowian, Mary Katylak, and Ivanka Kuzyk, faculty advisor Prof. William Omelchenko, and a $100 grant from Hunter College for the purchase of display items.

Ukrainians Well Represented At GOP Fete in Washington

On April 29, 1972 in Washington, D.C., many Ukrainian Americans were honored guests at the Watergate penthouse of Mrs. Anna Chennault. Republican National Committee Chairman Bob Dole was co-host with Mrs. Chennault at the reception-buffet sponsored by the National Republican Heritage Groups (Nationalities) Council for its "Century Club" members.

WASHINGTON, D.C.—The first meeting of more than 200 of the National Republican Heritage Groups (Nationalities) Council's "Century Club" members took place at a reception-buffet held April 29, 1972, in Washington, D.C., at the Watergate penthouse of Mrs. Anna Chennault.

Senator Bob Dole, chairman of the Republican National Committee, acted as a co-host with Mrs. Chennault. Century Club members from California, Illinois, New York, New Jersey, Ohio, Pennsylvania, Massachusetts, Maryland, Virginia, Michigan and many other states were in attendance.

Philadelphia Nationals Close Soccer Season

PHILADELPHIA, Pa. (AY) — The Philadelphia Ukrainian Nationals completed their 1971-72 soccer season (September to April) with a record of 12 victories and 5 defeats. In the 17 games played, the "Tryzub" booters scored a total of 42 goals and allowed 18 to the opposition. Despite this fairly good record, they won no championships this year because of a poor finish.

Lost by One Point After leading the Southern Division of the German-American League from the beginning, they were edged out in the last game of the campaign by one point, by Elizabeth S.C. This deprived them of one cup. In the inter-divisional playoff, the team lost the game and with it the thought of salvaging the overall league title. The virtual collapse of the Ukrainian Nats in April can be attributed to the loss of four players — one by injury, one by suspension, two by departing to Miami.

The Ukrainians were also deprived of a chance to perhaps win the U.S. championship (their fifth) when a game they won was taken away from them due only to inefficient handling of a player release form by the USSFA.

Attendance Disappointing A disappointing aspect of the season was the fact that all those star attractions with teams from New York drew only between 200 and 400 fans even though the games were played in a good and convenient location within walking distance of the club itself and the Ukrainian community in Logan. Is it time to liquidate?

Wujeik Captures School's Highest Athletic Award

CHAPEL HILL, N.C. — Dennis Wujeik, a dominant force in Tar Heel basketball success the past three seasons, has won the Patterson Medal, highest athletic award at the University of North Carolina.

The 6-6 forward from Ambridge, Pa., who is of Ukrainian descent, played on Carolina teams which swept 73 out of 93 games and won a string of tournament championships, including a record five during the 1971-72 season.

In making the Patterson Medal announcement Saturday, April 29, Carolina Director of Athletics Homer Rice called Wujeik "a great basketball player and a goodwill ambassador for our University."

The Patterson Medal, which was established in 1924, is given each year to a Carolina senior who has demonstrated general excellence in athletics throughout his Tar Heel career. The selection is based on athletic ability, sportsmanship, morale, leadership and general conduct.

The presentation of the award to Wujeik was made by Dr. Joseph Patterson and Dr. Simmons Patterson, both of Chapel Hill, who give the award in memory of their father, the late Dr. Joseph Patterson of New Bern, N.C.

Wujeik emerged as a star during his junior basketball season, pacing the Tar Heels to the regular season championship of the Atlantic Coast Conference. He tore ligaments in his knee in the first round of the National Invitational Tournament that the Ukrainian church and community. Bishop Stock specifically noted the fact that it was Fr. Borsa who sponsored over 1,000 Ukrainian refugee families to the U.S. after World War II and helped them start a new life in this country.

Congratulating the pastor were also: Eugene Kotyk, president of the local UCA chapter, UNA Supreme President Joseph Lesawyer, and Dr. Oleksander Bilyk, Vice-President of the Providence Association of Ukrainian Catholics, for which Fr. Borsa is an Advisor.

SUMA, Plast, school children under the helm of the Sisters, as well as the Ukrainian Community Center dancers entertained the guests in the musical part of the program. Another warm tribute was given to the pastor by his sisters, Maria Macijewsky and Slawa Jachnycky, who sang in a duet, and Maria Macijewsky and Nila Genyk, with yet another vocal selection, Nila Genyk.

Fr. Borsa's niece, sang and Maria Jachnycky, another niece, recited a poem dedicated to her uncle. Fr. Borsa, visibly moved expressed his thanks to all persons responsible for this fete and to all the guests who participated in it. In reminiscing about his 40 years of priesthood, Fr. Borsa noted that he succeeded in the building of churches and schools only through cooperation and generosity of the parishioners.

Fr. Borsa was born in 1905 in the village Tovstenke, near Husiatyn, western Ukraine. He completed his secondary and theological studies in Lviv and Stanslaviv. Ordained on May 8, 1932 by Bishop Gregory Khomyshyn in Stanslaviv, he served in the parishes of Horodenka, Koropec and Budzaniv, before coming to the U.S. in 1936.

In this country he served in the Ukrainian Catholic parishes in North Dakota, Hudson, N.Y., Pittsfield, Mass., New Haven, Conn., Pittsburgh, Pa., and now in Jersey City, N.J. He built churches, convents for the Sisters, was instrumental in renovating the churches and enriching them with iconostases. In Jersey City, he built a new school.

Concluding the banquet on Sunday was the Rev. Zinowij Baczynsky, the parish's senior priest.

UCCA Washington News

On April 10 UCCA President Dr. Lev Dobriansky was invited to join the distinguished Panama Canal Society in Washington, D.C. Accepting the invitation, he stated, "I'm deeply honored to join this select group and will do everything possible to assist it in its objectives."

A new "Committee For A Free China" was launched on February 15 by Dr. Walter Judd, a long-time friend of the Ukrainian cause and that of the captive nations movement. A press conference was held in the Cannon Building of the House of Representatives, but the UCCA President was unable to attend because of a previously committed meeting with the Honorable Frank Shakespeare, Director of the USIA.

On behalf of the UCCA and himself, the UCCA president sent on April 15th a warm, congratulatory message to Mother M. Olga, OSBM, president of Manor Junior College in Pennsylvania. The college is celebrating its Silver Jubilee. The message read in part, "What is most important for the mosaic of our American culture is the steady transmission of both Ukrainian Catholicism and cultural richness that the college affords for young and challenging minds."

In the April 22 issue of "Human Events," the work by the UCCA president on "U.S.A. and the Soviet Myth" was again advertised. The ad describes the book as "detailing Russian expansion and plans for global domination." The ad was sponsored by the Anti-Communist Book Club of Washington. Last year the club ran it as a book-of-the-month selection.

For the past few weeks the Director of the United States Information Agency has been criticized for his directive in the Agency to eliminate all usages of "Soviet nation," "The Soviets" and similar semantic absurdities. Senator Fulbright, chairman of the Foreign Relations Committee, held it was inopportune on the eve of the President's forthcoming visit to the USSR. Russell Baker of the New York Times ran a parody on the directive in the spirit of William Shakespeare's dubity as to "what's in a name." The Frank Shakespeare directive is significantly in line with the advocacy of UCCA for over two decades.

Continuing action has been undertaken on H. Con. Res. 555-556, seeking to resurrect the Ukrainian Orthodox and Catholic Churches in Ukraine. The UCCA president has met with Representative Thomas Morgan, chairman of the House Foreign Affairs Committee, and discussed the matter of hearings on the measure in the near future. Meanwhile, in addition to hierarchical support for the resolutions from the Most Reverend Ambrose Senyshyn of Philadelphia and the Most Reverend Mstyslaw Skrypnyk of South Bound Brook, Most Reverend Maxim Hermaniuk of Winnipeg and Most Reverend Ivan Prashko of Melbourne, Australia, have expressed their support of these vital resolutions. An appeal by the UCCA president has been made to both the Ukrainian Catholic and Orthodox hierarchies.

MINERSVILLE, Pa.—The ASUR (American-Slovak-Ukrainian-Russian) Club of Schuylkill County has completed plans for the 14th annual testimonial banquet to be held at 7 p.m. May 27 at Marko Towne House, Ashland. ASUR members have chosen Steve Andrusian of Minersville as the man of the year, based on his achievements "in" two fields, State Police and Holy Name Society work.

Andrusian is a police sergeant with 22 years of service. He's currently an instructor in criminal law and procedures. Through the efforts of Andrusian, the eight Dioceses of Pennsylvania formed the Pennsylvania Association of Holy Name Societies of which he was elected president. He is president of the National Holy Name organization and has held many Holy Name offices.

A member of Our Lady of Mount Carmel Church, Minersville, Andrusian is married to the former Elizabeth Rizzardi. They have three children, Steve, a student at Naval Prep School; Cynthia, a student at Nativity BMV High School, and Beth Ann, St. Vincent de Paul's School. Tickets for the testimonial can be secured from Nick Bervinchak, Minersville; Mike Terefinko, Mahanoy Plane, and John Contrady, McAdoo.
